James Freeman Jenness, Minister

Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on another of the themes in the series bearing upon the present world-situation. "The Philosophy Which Made the War" will be the special subject this week. It is not the purpose to discuss any abstruse system of philosophy, but to consider certain ideas and ideals which constitute the national philosophy of life in modern Germany, against which most of the rest of the world is ready to fight.
The Sundayschool will meet at 9:45 a. m. and the morning service will be at 11 o'clock. The Union Young Peoples meeting and Union service of the five cooperating churches will be held in this church. Fuller announcement of the union services appear in another column.

DESCRIBES CURE FOR GROUCH

Doctor Finds Uneasiness and Crankiness Are Both Diseases That Can Be Groped With.

Take comfort, all ye who "fly to arms" at the slightest provocation or are judged fidgety or cranky or irritable. Your friends, and more especially your enemies, may say it is just "pure crankiness," or even worse. But Dr. Meyer Solomon brings word to such sufferers that they are victims of a disease which may be cured.
In the New York Medical Journal he has an article dealing with the subject in plain language and telling simple systems and simple remedies.
"In common forms," Doctor Solomon says, "there is nothing more than a condition of uneasiness or unrest. The person is fidgety, ill at ease, cannot concentrate on the task before him and is so generally disturbed he does not know what to do with himself. It is but natural that while in this condition the person is irritable and is apt to be cranky, grouchy, easily angered and not at all himself, as he will tell you. I venture to state in this simple form the state occurs now and then in all human beings, but for the most of us these periods are relatively infrequent."
"Many may find relief by going to a gymnasium, playing golf, tennis, or the like; going to a baseball game, joining a card game; yes, even going to a prize fight, a wrestling match and similar methods of amusement. Others may find their peace in intellectual pursuits—reading a novel, a scientific book or article, resorting to one of their hobbies."

Seaweed Fertilizer.
Seaweed as a fertilizer has been found to be very beneficial to potato beds when applied previously to planting the seeds.

Strength Appeals to Women.
Women are—or should be, have been?—so bound by convention that it may be the strain of lawlessness that flies, more or less deep, in us all, in them manifests itself in admiration for the men who have chosen to be a law unto themselves.
Perhaps the real secret is women's love for strength, which, despite emancipated protests, is the strongest instinct inherited from the cave woman still rampant within her. Most women's favorite character in history is Napoleon, not because he was great, but because he was ruthless, and she will always have more admiration for a great soldier than a great poet unless his amours were specially notorious; but, unhappily, in any instance she mistakes lawlessness for strength, not being sufficiently experienced to realize that only the bound are free.—London Ideas.

Famous Tree Destroyed.
"Byron's tree," in Harrow parish churchyard, has been destroyed by fire, wantonly caused by a visitor. This is the elm made famous by the poet, who in a letter from Italy in 1822 stated that he used to sit for hours under a large tree in the churchyard. He also wrote some well-known "Lines written beneath an elm in the churchyard of Harrow."

Prickly Saltwort Once Valuable.
The prickly saltwort, so common on sandy shores, was once much used in preparing carbonate of soda.
