COMING TO WHEATON

at Union Hotel

THURSDAY, APRIL 18th

One Day Only—Stormy or Fair. Noted Healer, Like unto Men of Bible Times Working Miracles Before Multitudes.

BORN WITH HEALING GIFT, HIS WORK A LABOR OF LOVE.

"One of the many remarkable features about Rev. Dr. Hawkins, the noted healer of modern times, is the attention he attracts everywhere he appears. Astonishing crowds of sick folks flock to him day after day everywhere he goes. The hotels in many instances would close the doors before noon. All the sick could not be treated then. Sufferers, rich and poor alike, would come from far and near that they should not be turned away. All with ailments of one sort or another.

REV. DR. HAWKINS, who consecrates his life to the wonderful work of the healing of the sick.

RHEUMATISM. Throws Old Crutch Away and Walks After Fourteen Years.

After being crippled and disabled for 14 years with Chronic Rheumatism, Mrs. Marion Esley of Napier, Ill., comes to healer for relief. Says: (April 8, 1917.) "I am so thankful for your kindness, I know I could walk as well as I ever did. I don't use my crutches around the house now and am so thankful for I have not even with out my crutches it will soon be 14 years."

Another Case.

Mrs. Nancy M. Grundy of Napier, Ill., takes her husband's treatment. She writes: (May 14, 1917.) "I am better. I never expected to be well again as I am now."

Walks for First Time in Six Months.

Mrs. N. L. Bradley, Soldiers' Home, Quincy, Ill., writes June 14, 1917, of her father's case: "Papa said to tell you he walked today for the first time in six months."

Health Still Continues.

Mrs. Ella Porter, Stoughton, Ill., says of her husband's treatment: (April 21, 1917.) "I am still continuing in health and strength to work and enjoy life."

One Treatment Does the Work.

Mrs. R. E. Prather of Rossville, Ill., says: (July 21, 1917.) "I never lose an opportunity to speak a word of praise for you. Since you cured the Rheumatism in my shoulders that evening in Rossville and you certainly relieved my mind as well as my body."

Restored Without Operation.

Mrs. Iva Swain thanks healer for help. Extract of letter follows: Iuka, Ill., April 8, 1917. Rev. Dr. Hawkins, East St. Louis, Ill. Dear Dr. Hawkins: "Through your wonderful treatment I was made well of a disease which doctors said would likely require surgical operation." Yours respectfully, Mrs. Iva Swain, Iuka, Ill.

Do not allow your former prejudice or lack of understanding of such a great work as this keep you away; come and see for yourself; there is greater hope through God's Eternal Power than mortal man has ever dreamed.

"Power to heal the sick and afflicted comes from above," says Rev. Hawkins. "It is a divine gift, and not the power of man that heals the sick and makes them well again. Without the help of God I could do nothing. I am only an instrument in His hands."

"Let the doubters doubt, and the scoffers scoff, but the truth is mighty. A Grand Opportunity.

Such an opportunity to see a man that does such healing work as this has seldom been offered before. Take advantage of it while you have the opportunity; if you don't you may regret it.

Such a man as this with such a healing gift has seldom appeared in the world. Now and then, through the great expanse of time, some goodly man, with supernatural power, from above has labored long in work like his and gave his life to it and healed disease and conquered pain and bade the sick go free again in peace, in health, in happiness and live.

All Things Possible With God—You May Be Healed.

No matter what your ailment may be, or how many physicians and others have pronounced your case hopeless, you may here have the opportunity to obtain the greatest of all human blessings—Good Health—as has been experienced by so many other sick people whom no other treatment ever seemed to help before. This grand healing work which accomplishes so much for so many sick and ailing people, is sustained by the offerings of the grateful people who contribute towards the expenses of carrying on the work as they feel they can afford that the great work may not be stopped but be carried on till all be treated and none be turned away, whether rich or whether poor.

Large Crowds Expected. Call early. Patients from a distance or out-of-town, may receive first attention. Married ladies should call with their husbands, and children with both parents.

Helpless invalids, those unable to call, may hear from the healer from his treating room by addressing their letters Rev. Dr. Hawkins, Box 57, E. St. Louis, Ill.

Come to him at Union Hotel, Wheaton, Ill, Thursday, April 18th, where he welcomes them to come as he cannot come to Downers Grove to them.

ALLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

American Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

ARGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT.

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration, However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused to some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore, necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export obligations. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the best and partless Tuesday.

The meatless meal and the portable Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being obtained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have effected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 208 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that there are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but that its sole desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food supplies and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and reliance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will meet the same loyal response as in the past.
