LISLE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NOTES

The Congregational church was host to a large number of visitors last Tuesday in their beautiful re-constructed building, the occasion was the annual meeting of the Aurora Association of Congregational churches. Pastors and delegates and outside speakers were present.

The program was broken at noon and evening for a social hour and to give delegates and friends an opportunity to partake of the meal served by the Lisle ladies. Both the table decorations and the excellent menu were highly commented on by the visitors.

In addition to strong papers during the day by pastors of the association, Dr. Gammon, Dr. McCollum and Dr. Hitchcock of Chicago addressed the gathering. The climax of the session was reached in the evening in an address by Dr. Geo. L. Cody of the American Missionary Association, who eloquently spoke to the theme, "Making Democracy Safe for the World."

The meeting was marked by a fine spirit of Christian fellowship, by sense of responsibility for things fundamental in this world crisis, and of serious purpose to promote the spirit and program of Jesus.

The pastor, church and association delegates feel that a day of great and rich experience was theirs.

Mrs. Charles Lacey visited her sisters in Chicago Monday.
