The flag at the waterworks station on Belmont street is in a most distressing state of shabbiness and flaps dismally in all kinds of weather. Can't we have a new flag? Messrs. City Fathers and then lower it at sundown and raise it in the morning according to government instructions? If we can't have a new flag, let us take the remnant down as it certainly does not add to our loyalty for a town building to float this one. And while we are at it let those in the postoffice also apply the rules regarding the colors to the one they fly. While it is not in as bad condition as the one at the power house, it flies in all kinds of weather and day and night. No flag should be left flying after sundown. Since writing the above we observe that the flag at the light plant has been taken down. We hope a new one will be put in its place and the rules for the flag observed.

Mrs. Geo. Pooler, of Hannibal, N. Y. a former resident of Downers visited friends here last week.

NEW WORDS TO AN OLD TUNE

Oh Johnny, Oh Johnny,
Why do you lag,
Oh Johnny, Oh Johnny,
Rush to your flag,
Your country's calling, can't you hear,
Don't stand around while others do all the fighting,
You must go Johnny, go Johnny,
Get right in line
And help to crush the foe,
You're a big husky chap,
Your Uncle Sam's in a scrap,
So you must go Johnny, go Johnny,
Go.
