NEWSY NOTES
FROM LISLE AND BELMONT

10:00 a. m. Sunday School.
11:00 a. m. Preaching Service.
7:45 p. m. Evening Service.
Fire completely destroyed the Yander Brothers home north of Lisle, Thursday afternoon of last week. It caught fire on the roof first. Neighbors went to help save as much as they could. They succeeded in getting out some of the furniture from the downstairs rooms also some fruit and vegetables from the basement.

Miss Ethel Plumb gave a delightful party Saturday evening at her home for several friends from Downers Grove and Lisle. The weather was stormy but that did not dampen the fun for the young folks. Games and music were played, refreshments were served and all had a good time until the "early" morning train came to take them back to their homes.

Mrs. A. V. Lacey entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lacey and daughter, Genevieve, at dinner on Sunday to celebrate Charles and Romano's birthdays.

Miss Doretta Mitchell, of Algonia, Iowa, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. Plumb and family for a couple of weeks.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bensley.

Miss Ida Sheldon, who has been sick for several days is getting better.

Stone Age Theory Disproved.
The means of manufacture at the disposal of savages were so small that archeologists were formerly of opinion that a stone axe must be the product of the efforts not merely of one generation but of several, being handed down from father to son, and taking shape gradually, so that an implement begun by an individual might be finished by his grandchild.
That this idea is pure nonsense was proved by the late J. D. McGuire of the United States bureau of ethnology, who, developing a high expertise in such work, made first-class axes in a day or two, chipping them out of hard stone and polishing them by rubbing with sand and water. He even produced sculptures in relief after the pattern of those of ancient Mexico, using no other tools than stone hammers for "pecking" at the rock.
It was the employment of tools, say anthropologists, that made man what he is. His brain was educated through the use of his hands.

Y. W. C. A. OPENS WORK IN ITALY

Tea and Club Rooms Opened for American Women.

Miss Charlotte Niven, Director of Italian Work, Prepares for influx of American Woman Students.

Italy is now included in the war work of the American Y. W. C. A. Miss Mabel Warner of Salina, Kan., and Chicago left Paris a few days ago for Rome, where she will be in charge of a Hostess House for American girls employed there by the American Red Cross, the Embassy and the new Tuberculosis Commission. Miss Warner has been director of the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House at Brest, France. Miss Warner will open a tea room and club rooms where the American women can gather for social times. Rome is harboring a refugee population of about 40,000 and accommodations are difficult to find.

The work in Rome was started as a direct result of the appeal of Miss Charlotte Niven, one of the National Y. W. C. A. secretaries of Italy, who is spending a few months in France as advisor in the French work.

Miss Niven's dreams of Y. W. C. A. work in Italy include the maintenance of a residence for non-Italian women, who, she feels, will come to Italy in great numbers after the war to study music and art.

"I believe at this time such a project is particularly important because women from other countries should be encouraged to come to Italy to replace the great numbers of German women who flooded Italy in the past, many of them paid agents of their government," Miss Niven said in discussing her plans.

Miss Niven has asked the American Y. W. C. A. to aid the Italian Association in establishing a center, perhaps at Genoa, with two American secretaries, with physical and recreational training, to act as a training school for Italian women. In connection with it her plan would include a Hostess House for girls passing through the city or employed there. Such a center would become eventually the center for all Y. W. C. A. work in Italy, both Italian and foreign.

In her formal appeal for help for the Unione Cristiana Delle Giovani (the Italian name for Young Women's Christian Association) Miss Niven has emphasized two facts, the poverty of the Italian Association on the one hand and the need and opportunity on the other for an American program in Italy at the present time.

Miss Niven's favorite way of illustrating the friendliness of the Italian woman to America is by telling the story of the Italian mother who said she had taken down the picture of the Madonna which had hung for many years over her bed and was putting in its place one of President Wilson.

"In our work in the Unione we have lacked trained leadership as well as the material resources to give such training. We have had no means to buy modern equipment. Consequently we have not the visible results of American and British work."

"Feeble as our work may be, it is not useless. Many girls in all parts of Italy have told us how much the Unione meant in their lives. Italian girls are touchingly grateful for the smallest efforts. They respond eagerly to friendliness."

"There is no other agency doing in Italy what the Association is trying to do."

Miss Niven has spent the past seven years in work with the Italian women, starting as director of a hostel, or boarding home for Italian women students, at Florence. She is an American from New York, where she was sometime head of the Christadora Settlement House.

THE GIRL DODGER

Dicke Theatre, Thursday, March 27th.

The dazzling career of young Harry Tavistock, known to all in Barrytown College, is threatened with an abrupt ending as Prexy has written to his father, a railroad magnate, that Tavistock Junior shows no sign of bringing distinction on his college. "The Gloom Buster" is a deep student of many things in life that have little to do with those usually taught in recognized seats of learning.

The gay youth is in a state of sore perplexity as his father threatens to cut off his supplies and he is afraid that word of his latest escapades may reach the ears of his fiancée, Anita Graham, who is desirable in every way, being extremely pretty and very well off. Tavistock's rooms are invaded by a quaint young student, Cuthbert Trotman, nicknamed by his associates "The Girl Dodger."

"The Girl Dodger" leads an absent minded life, immersed in books and quite oblivious to his daily surroundings. He has just been turned out of his rooms by an irate landlady because he has invested the money that should have been paid for his rent in a stock of the latest works on sociology. He planks himself on Tavistock, not from any feeling of affection, but because the "Gloom Buster's" rooms adjoin his own.

The presence of this learned youth gives Tavistock an inspiration, and when his father arrives he explains that in order to make up for lost time he has hired a tutor. The father is delighted to hear this and supplies his son with funds to meet this additional outlay. The Dodger however, has only been installed a few days when a fresh complication arises. Tavistock receives word that his mother and Anita will arrive in the evening at a nearby seashore hotel and that he must be there to welcome them.

This is extremely unfortunate as he has arranged for a stunning supper for Pinkie le Rue, a graduate of the Gaiety Theatre, and a bunch of her merriest girl friends of the chorus. There is only one way out of it; the Dodger must entertain the party while the "Gloom Buster" makes a hurried visit to his mother and sweetheart and must keep them amused until he manages to escape from respectability.

The Dodger is carefully rehearsed in his part and is arrayed out for the event in one of Tavistock's sportiest suits. As Pinkie is rather wild and boisterous he is to show himself a man of high spirits and rise to the occasion. Tavistock rushes off to meet his mother and Anita and the Dodger fortifies himself according to advice, with a cocktail and prepares to meet the effervescent Pinkie.

An accident to her mother disarranges Anita's plans and instead of making for the hotel she makes for Tavistock's rooms. The Dodger mistakes Anita for Pinkie and does his best to prove that he is a regular man about town. Anita sees through the palpable imposition and during the course of the evening, the Dodger becomes convinced that the stage has been much maligned and that its stars are angels of beauty and intelligence. Anita leaves without revealing her identity, but with something more than a sympathetic feeling for the guileless student.

The Dodger pays a visit to the Gaiety Theatre and discovers his mistake. He also incurs the enmity of Tavistock who thinks that his tutor is trying to steal a march on him. The Dodger is rescued from the depths of gloom by a note from Anita who invites him to a dance at the hotel in which she is staying. The Dodger turns up for the festivities and is disappointed in not finding Anita.

In her absence he meets with some surprising adventures—is locked up in a hotel room, is mistaken for a burglar and chased by the police. Anita arrives and many explanations are made which prove that although the Dodger is absent-minded, he is of heroic nature when aroused, as he has to convince Tavistock with much physical exertion that he and not "The Gloom Buster" has established a right to the hand of the fair Anita.

Gypsy Tribes.
In Poland the gypsy tribes are called Zingani; in Italy, Zingari; in Spain, Gitanos; in France, Bohemians; in Germany, Zigeuner. The Persians, it is stated, apply to them a name meaning "Black Indians." Their most ancient name is that of Sinit, which is supposed to be connected with Sini, the native name for the Indians.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

Mrs. Francis H. Bond died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. Bond, last week. She was buried at Somenauk.

Mrs. F. Gerwig, of Chicago, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. F. J. Prentiss.

C. Roe entertained several of his near relatives in a royal manner last Thursday, in their new home on Curtis Street.

Two carloads of lumber arrived Monday for the new Episcopal church to be erected on their property at the corner of Foote and Franklin Sts. Work will be commenced immediately.

Ernest Gallup entertained a party of his friends at his father's residence on South Main Street, last Saturday evening. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Downers Grove streets have never been in such an impassable condition as they are at present. Rain and snow have made a murky combination horrible to contemplate.

Stephen Davis, of Spokane, Wash., has been visiting his brother, Mack Davis, of Lisle, the past two weeks. Mr. Davis was a former resident of this vicinity and together with his brother paid a visit to old friends in the Grove last Saturday. They were the guests of their nephew, C. F. Davis, while in Downers.

Indian Summer.
Indian summer is the return of genial but not hot weather after sharp frosts. It is the moment when the door of the vestibule of winter is left standing ajar for a moment to let the light, and just a little—not too much—of warmth of departing summer stream in. It is a season without a rival—brief even than the briefest spring, tenderer than the softest summer; it is the syncope of the year's woes and the promise and pledge of a man's new location of Eden.—Burdette
