

Couldn't Risk It.
A good story is told of General Hancock of Georgia. When the latter was 70 years ago, elected a representative, a friend asked: "General, may I introduce you to Henry Clay?" "No, sir," was the prompt response; "I am his adversary, and choose not to subject myself to his fascination."

The Great Art.
There is but one art—to omit! Oh, if I knew how to omit I would ask no other knowledge. A man who knew how to omit would make an "Itad" of a daily paper.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

X-Rays in Industry.
Apart from their use in medicine, X-rays are steadily extending their field of usefulness. With new types of tube a ray powerful enough to show up the minutest flaw in a four-inch thickness of steel can be produced.—Chicago Journal.

Value of Silence.
If a man abuses an enemy, he hurts himself, and if he praises him, his friends say he is a hypocrite. There seems to be no course more creditable than the simple course of keeping still.—Topeka Capital.

LONG TIME RESIDENT OF COUNTY DIED AT HINSDALE

Jacob Lehman, Grandson of Man Who Fought for American Independence Buried Sunday.

Jacob Lehman, Sr. for over sixty years a resident of Downers Grove township died at his home in Hinsdale last Thursday and was buried Sunday in the Lace Cemetery.

Mr. Lehman was born near Paris, France on November 28, 1838 and came to the United States with his parents when a boy of 17. For one year the family lived in New York and then moved west to Illinois. Mr. Lehman has lived since in Downers Grove township engaging in farming south of here until about fifteen years ago when he moved to Hinsdale. There he dealt in real estate until his death.

On January 10, 1863 he was married to Miss Sarah Klein and six children were born to them all of whom are living. They are Jacob Jr., Fred and Valentine, of Hinsdale, George of Fairmont, Minn., Mrs. George Klein, of Downers Grove and Mrs. John Schultz, of Naperville. Mrs. Lehman passed away January 4, 1918 and they now sleep side by side at the Lace cemetery near the home where for so many years they toiled side by side living and loving their children and their farm home.

Son of French Patriot.
Mr. Lehman was a grandson of Dan Lehman, of Paris, France, who in 1776 fought with the revolutionary soldiers against the English to make this country free. He was one of that band of patriots which France, loving Liberty herself, sent to America to help us win ours. After the English were beaten Dan Lehman returned to his native country and when asked why he didn't make his home in the new world replied, "That country is still too much of a wilderness."

Mr. Lehman had four grandsons in the A. E. F. in France, one in a Texas camp and three more ready to go when the signing of the armistice cut short hostilities.

Here is a concrete illustration of America's repaying its debt to France. Funeral services were held from his home, 100 Washington Street, Rev. Rowell, of the Union church officiating. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the A. F. & A. M. and at his funeral were many representatives of these bodies besides a host of relatives and friends.

"HERE COMES THE BRIDE"

Unaware that there is another man of the same name in South America who has a bad record, Frederick Tile, a New York lawyer, is desperately in love with Ethel Sinclair, a corn magnates daughter. The other Tile has married Maria Pizzaro, a South American beauty, who has divorced him, and by the terms of her father's will, her former husband cannot share in his estate if he re-marries within one year after his father-in-law's death.

Maria arrives in New York with Sevier, her lawyer and her divorced husband wires her that he is leaving by the next boat. Sevier assures Maria that he will find a Frederick Tile and marry him to some woman before her divorced husband arrives in New York. There will be no one to prove that their victim is the wrong Mr. Tile and Maria will come into her fortune. They find Frederick Tile's name in the city directory and retain a prominent lawyer to make arrangements for Tile's marriage.

Mr. Sinclair finds a marriage license for Tile and Ethel. The angry father rails at Ethel, tells her that tile is after her money and he tears up the license in Tile's presence. Meanwhile, the final arrangements are made by Maria, Sevier and the other lawyer for Tile's marriage to a four-times widow, ugly as sin. Tile is in despair when Maria's lawyer telephones him that he can make $100,000 by marrying a woman who shall be his wife in name only and who will agree to an immediate divorce. Tile is offered $20,000 cash and he finally agrees to the marriage and the nuptials are celebrated.

Ethel, meanwhile, has taken matters in her own hands and she telephones her father that she and Tile have eloped.

Tile and Ethel meet en dishabile in the hall the next morning and both are shocked. They dine together and read the newspaper accounts of their supposed elopement. Carleton, Nora Sinclair and the corn magnate congratulate them, but the bride, disatisfied with the $500 paid her to be come Tile's wife in name only, appears on the scene and is locked in a room by Tile. The Sinclairs insist upon a "regular" marriage and the mental agony of Tile is at a high tension.

The bride makes a great rumpus and length forced to confess the truth. A rough looking character who has just been released from Sing Sing appears suddenly and recognizes the bride as his wife, the result being that she ceases to vamp Tile. The bride and her real husband are sent to Cuba, but by the terms of the marriage agreement with Maria and her lawyer, Tile must wait a year before he can make Ethel his wife. Sadly the fond couple submit to the delay rendered mandatory by law.

Will be shown at the Dicke Theatre, April 17th.

ANNOUNCEMENT MEN AND WOMEN OF SCHOOL DISTRICT 58 ATTENTION

At the solicitation of many of the citizens of Downers Grove, I have filed my petition as a candidate for President of the Board of Education of this district.

I respectfully solicit the votes of all my fellow citizens who approve my record during the last two years.

I am in favor of certain policies which may be summarized as follows;

A Competent teacher for EVERY grade;
An improved and up-to-date curriculum;
As soon as legal difficulties are removed, the creation of a new and greater district; A Community Township High School.

I believe that the Board of Education should make an effort to cooperate with the three educational institutions of the community, the schools, the library and the Kindergarten.

I believe that part of the duties of the President and the members of the Board, is to keep in intimate touch with the conditions of the schools, the qualifications of the faculty and the progress of the students. This I have attempted to do.

If legislation now pending at Springfield, becomes law, I favor an immediate referendum for the purpose of providing additional revenue.

I am in favor, briefly, of better schools, a better village, a better life — Progress.
