YOU Should Not NEGLECT YOUR CLOTHES! Many establishments claim to "Dry Clean" when they merely brush the material and sponge the surface to a limited extent. This leaves all the dirt and grease in the center of the cloth, and in the case of lined garments the dirt is left in the interlining, padding, etc., and in a short time it works back to the surface and the garment is as soiled looking as before being cleaned. The Dry Cleaning process is not a mere brushing as many persons assume, but it is a thorough cleaning of the fabric by spirits and solvents, and requires not only a positive knowledge of how to do it, but a very efficient equipment with which to do it. Bring your clothing here and have it CLEANED the RIGHT way. JOSEPH MAZZA Successor to W. S. Wilson CLEANING — DYEING — PRESSING and — REPAIRING 27 South Main Street Garments Called for and Delivered. "Rain, rain, go away, come again some other day." But for the love-of-mike go away, give us a chance to plant our gardens, clean up our places and get spick and span for the summer. Not forgetting of course the chance to do our spring housecleaning. Have you ever noticed how many of the pictures shown at the Dicke Theatre are taken from stories in the best books and magazines? "The Roaring Road," booked for Saturday, May 3, is an example. This story appeared recently in the Saturday Evening Post. The Rainbow Division, after many months service over there is at last in the United States. They are at Camp Merrit, N. J., awaiting orders which will send them home. Gilbert Lacey, of Battery C, 149th, F. A., a unit of the Division writes that the local boys are all well and have no way of knowing when they will come West. "Jack" Renninger arrived home Tuesday, having been discharged at Camp Grant from the service. He went over with the 56th Division and after landing was transferred to the 3d getting four days in the front lines as a member of this outfit before the signing of the armistice. He came home as a casual attached to the 91st Division. "The Girl Who Stayed at Home" will be shown at the Dicke Theatre, Thursday, May 8th, is the latest picture produced by D. W. Griffith, who is one of the most accomplished moving picture producers in the world. We know you will not stay at home the evening on which "The Girl Who Stayed at Home" is to be shown. adv. The Next time you pick up one of the Chicago papers turn to the page on which appears the Moving Picture Theatre advertisements. Notice how many more of them run Paramount and Artcraft Pictures than run other brands. Why do they? Because these pictures are the best obtainable. That is also why the Dicke Theatre runs them. adv.
