

ASSEMBLY HALL CROWDED AT '19 "CLASS NIGHT"

Clever Exercises Kept Friends and Relatives in Gale of Laughter for Over Two Hours

With the close of another school year the Senior Class gathered on Wednesday evening to entertain their friends and admirers with the stunts of "Class Night." It was a very talented class which appeared before the crowded assembly and told of their merry-makings and jollities during four wonderful years of high school life.

James Milnes, president of the '19 class opened the final meeting of the class by a few preliminary remarks.

For two years it has been the custom to read the class prophecy, will and history at the class night exercises. Miss Grace Wheeler, Class Historian, took us back to the days when the present Seniors were mere Frosh. Thirty-five insignificant little youngsters drifted wearily into the hugh assembly four years ago. Those children have now grown and for the past year have been the nucleus of many enterprises carried out in the high school. Many and varied were the experiences this class suffered from breaking in a new set of teachers to pestering some Freshies was their prime role in their Soph year. In this same year they gained the honor of having the best debating team in school and still hold it. Their Senior year was a busy one and to relate their many feats accomplished would require volumes.

Miss Veronica Kohley, who gained fame as a fortune teller in the senior play turned to crystal gazing for the evening. As she gazed with awe into the prophesying globe many were the sights and pictures brought forth.

Alger Barnard was seen to be teaching school and making others realize that his knowledge of math was imaginary while Ole Olson and "Lain" Peterson were ranching it in the west. Gladys Whitney was starring in the Follies. "Mogy" Modjeska was prospering at Greggs with his silver jitney bus, and so on in all branches of life we found the ninetens struggling desperately.

Alger Barnhart being a good student of business law aided in drawing up the last will and testament. One would not think so many things could be given away as these seniors bestowed upon other members of the High School. From Winston Roth's excess weight (to Miss King of the faculty) to brass tacks, rubber bands and other means of causing disturbances tendered by Edward Waples.

Even beauty, bashfulness and skill at dancing were merrily tossed away. The last thing bequeathed to the high school was of material value, in the form of a Cheney phonograph. This the Senior Class presented to the high school as a remembrance of the class of 1919. Guthrie Boone, in his usual nonchalant manner, received the gift, being president of the Junior Class.

During a short intermission several numbers were played to show what a wonderful gift the senior class has left for future students.

A Chautauqua program was next in store for the friends of the grads. Roland Modjeska, as manager, was free with compliments and admitted no better chautauqua company existed. The Apollo quartet was the opening feature and was rare, yes, very rare. Ed. Waples, leading tenor, recently starred in Pa's Picnic. "Suede" Olson got his start as D. G. H. S. cheer leader. James Milnes was discovered harmonizing in a local church choir, while "Pete" Peterson was always a bear-at-a-tone. Several very touching numbers were rendered and bouquets of weeds and cabbage leaves presented to the artists.

Miss Frances Bensley rendered several very appealing musical readings. The feature of the evening was a lecture delivered by Arthur Jenness. Playing the role of a naturalist and philosophical scholar he had a side-splitting laugh bursting forth at all times. His wild gestures and never ending flow of unheard of words and methods of philosophizing was simply a scream. His subject was: "How to be like Me."

A piano solo by Thelma Roe and another spasm or two by the Apollo quartette closed the Chautauqua program.

The Junior Improvement Club (formed of mothers of Juniors) held a short session on the possibilities of improving their children. A party at Verdenius' was keeping the youngsters busy calling mother to the telephone to gain information such as, "where's my collar," etc. It was written by Hazel Kellogg. A member of the class and was very clever.

As a whole the class night exercises were a big success and from year to year they improve greatly.

THEY DID THEIR DUTY

Should the loyal work of these courageous lads from Du Page County fade away into dim memory? Is it right that their children should be deprived of that thrill of pride of seeing their dad's picture in a historical volume from their home county in the great War in years to come?

And think of the tireless devotion to the Red Cross work! Imagine the hours that the women in this County devoted to their duties, throwing themselves into the work enthusiastically so as to make their Red Cross record a success. Should their record be forgotten? It took keen ability, hard work, to make the Liberty Loan, Red Cross War Stamps and other activities a success. Are not those individuals, who took an active part, entitled to be remembered in picture and text for their splendid work?

Every one of these groups from this County who helped Uncle Sam win the War and crush the enemy are entitled to have their records treasured for generations to come. That is why the Downers Grove Publishing Company is putting forth this HONOR ROLL which will obtain the picture of everyone who has loyally done his part in the service and in home activities.

We must have these pictures immediately, also the data regarding each individual. We are relying on you to make the HONOR ROLL a success.

This book will be beautifully constructed with five-color reproductions of splendid War paintings made expressly for the HONOR ROLL. Your boy's picture should be in this book, or if you have been actively engaged in Home Service work you should be in it. It won't cost you anything for the place or the printing of this record.

A copy of the volume will be placed in every library and high school in the County and also in the archives of the State Historical Society. Please send photograph and data at once.

IT DON'T COST YOU ANYTHING

It is only natural that you should say, what does the printing of the record and the plates of each individual cost. There is no charge for this work. We are going to the expense of preparing the book and you are not obligated in any way whatsoever. We want this book to be authentic work of who is who in Du Page County in the great war, and in order to get one hundred per cent record, we must have every picture that should rightfully go into this book.

You are delaying the book if you are holding pictures back, so rush them to us with the data blank without an instance delay.

We guarantee that pictures will be returned in good condition.

REMEMBER THEIR DEEDS

We know that the War of Independence was not won without sacrifice and toil. Valley Forge alone recalls patience and heroism of Spartan or Roman magnitude.

The World War called forth our young men and they responded nobly. They were eager and willing to do their part and fit themselves for this great struggle. The lads who went "Over" made a wonderful record as fighters—they aroused the admiration of the Veteran British, Italian and French Armies. At Chateau Thierry they turned rout into victory by holding the enemy back.

We cheered their deeds in 1918—will we remember them in 1919 or five or ten years from now?

The only permanent remembrance is in book form, such as we are now preparing and these publications will be placed in the Library and High Schools of each county. That is why we urge you to rush the picture and data of every one of these men to us, so that we can put them in this authentic War Record of Du Page County.
