Discussion of matters pertaining to the Kingdom of God in the world in general and our own community in particular. Members of this church are reminded that regular attendance and participation in the worship of Almighty God is of the fundamental exercises of the soul without which the soul's life becomes starved and shrivelled. Can you be a good citizen if you seldom or never vote? And can your influence count as it ought to in this community if you fail to make known unmistakably where you stand in matters of religion? Another thing; how long would you want to live in this town, how long would you want to keep your family in this town if someone came along and decreed that all the churches of this town should close their doors, and absolutely go out of existence? Have you ever stopped to consider then, how much you owe to the influence of church life and activities in making your life safe and prosperous, and happy? What is the answer? Be in your proper place next Sunday, humbly, thankfully worshipping God, and waiting before His presence for that inward illumination of yours spirit that will guide you in your daily tasks in such way that your life will be built up like a great and lovely palace, with towers that cannot be shaken, and with treasures beyond price.

When a few princes and cities in 1530 avowed their faith in the principles of the Reformation by presenting the Augsburg Confession, Prince Wolfgang von Anhalt was warned not to sign it because it would bring down on him the anger of the Emperor Charles V. The old man replied, "Many a time have I ridden to war to help my friends; so now for once I'll take horse for my Lord Christ." If you want your life to count for the most, you must let the world know exactly where you stand. Don't fail to be at church next Sunday.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

From the issue of June 24th, 1897. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bebb of Morton Park are visiting this week with the family of Thos. Bunning. Mrs. Thos. Atwood and Joseph Oldfield of Vandalia, spent Saturday and Sunday in Downers Grove and Cass, with relatives and friends. Mrs. and Mrs. Thompson of London, England are spending a week in the Grove at Mrs. J. A. Hall's. Mr. Thompson was a former resident here. Miss Ella Bartle returned from her Ohio visit last Saturday. She was accompanied home by her cousin, Walter Bartle of Ulrichsville, Ohio. Geo. Kline of Williamsburg, Iowa, who was visiting his Downers Grove friends last week, took his niece, Miss Laura Baker, home with him for the summer. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Lancaster was the scene of a pleasant gathering Monday evening. The occasion was the first meeting of the Wednesday Club for the season and the ladies of that organization had invited their husbands and friends to enjoy the good things provided. A very good program was enjoyed as well as the refreshments. Among those present were: Messrs and Mesdames F. W. C. Hayes, M. A. Sacksteder, A. P. Daniels, J. A. Nash, E. H. Prince, A. G. Prince, eGeorge T. Hughes, S. H. Frey, L. H. Thomas, J. M. Burns, J. C. White, A. C. Riddler, F. C. Kuenzel, W. H. Jones, J. P. Clark; Mesdames F. Black, G. E. White, Geo. E. Downer, Miss F. BOY FROM JUVENILE HOME IS IN CO. JAIL

John Gangan, fifteen years old, is in the Wheaton jail awaiting trial for robbery. He was an inmate of the Juvenile Home in Chicago until one month ago when he was sent to the farm of Leonard Pfaff to work for the summer. Tuesday afternoon he disappeared and with him went a horse and buggy, some clothing and jewelry. He was caught near the Frank Childers farm and taken to Wheaton. World Owes Much to Jenner. May 17 is the anniversary of the birth, in 1740, of Edward Jenner, the doctor who rid the world of the scourge of smallpox by vaccination. The first public vaccination occurred in 1768. Jenner received large money grants from various cities as reward for his great discovery.

NEWSY NOTES FROM LISLE AND BELMONT

10:00 a. m. Sunday School. 11:00 a. m. Preaching Service. 7:45 p. m. Evening Service.

LISLE NOTES. The Young Peoples Bible Class will have a social in the church parlors Friday evening, June 27th, at 8:00 o'clock.

The first community meeting held last Friday evening at the church was well attended. The address by Mr. Page and songs by Mr. Steele and Mr. Nelloms were much appreciated and steps were taken to make this a permanent organization. Another meeting will be held in about a month.

Miss Dean of Chicago, spent Saturday and Sunday as the guests of Rev. and Mrs. Anderson.

Frank Schultz of Fort Sheridan, spent a few days last week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz. Frank is still using crutches and says he is as well as he ever expects to be.

Mr. Will Shellenberger of Nemaka, Iowa, visited his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. A. Riedy on Tuesday. He had brought a carload of cattle from his home to the Chicago market. He says he likes the looks of the country around here and the crops look better. There has been too much rain in Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hatch spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Hatch's mother and sister at Yorkville.

LACEY—BARNACLE

On the evening of June 25th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lacey, of Lisle, occurred the wedding of their daughter Genevieve, and Mr. James Barnacle, both of this place.

At 8:15 o'clock, while the wedding march was being played, the bridal party marched down the stairs and into the rooms which were beautifully decorated with amilax and daisies. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white silk georgette crepe and carried a lovely bouquet of white rosebuds. The groom was handsomely attired in navy blue serge.

They were attended by Mrs. Shirley Campbell of Chicago, who was maid of honor and Mr. Gilbert Lacey, of Downers Grove, both cousins of the bride. The maid of honor wore pink silk and carried pink rosebuds. Little Miss Lois Pentz acted as flower girl and Rolland Barnacle as ring bearer.

Rev. A. H. Anderson of Lisle, officiated and read the simple marriage service. Miss Lacey, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lacey, and one of Lisle's most promising young ladies, possesses a wonderful pleasing and attractive personality and is admired by all who know her.

Mr. Barnacle, one of Lisle's most highly respected citizens, is a successful salesman with a fine future before him. He is a young man of whom we may pardonably feel proud. Mr. and Mrs. Barnacle left Thursday morning for a motor tour to Washington, D. C. and other points in the East.

GOLD STARS

Another silver star turned into gold. Another Hero, gone to join the fold. Of those who fought, and died, to make men free. This world to give sweet peace and liberty.

Another Gold Star Mother on the roll. To join with those who too did pay the toll. And gave the boys they love, for freedom's sake. And smiled thru tears, altho their hearts did ache.

Dear Gold Star Mothers, we most envy you. We would be glad to give our loved ones too. But tho we can't do that, we can be true. To you and flag, the red, the white and blue.

Henry W. Bruns. A tribute to the memory of Downers Grove's gold star Heroes and their mothers. Written June 7th, 1919.

New York's Afflictions. Most of New York's serious epidemics occurred in the first half of the last century. The city was swept by yellow fever in 1795, 1798, 1805, 1818 and 1822, and by cholera in 1822, 1824 and 1849 and 1855.

"WHEN A GIRL LOVES"

At Dicke Theatre Saturday, June 28th.

The "real Charlie Chaplin", as described by Mildred Harris, the beautiful screen star who became his bride recently, and who is remembered for her work in "Borrowed Clothes", and whose current release is "When a Girl Loves," a thrilling six-reel Western picture, is an altogether new personage to screen fans.

"The motion picture patrons of America think they know my husband pretty well," Mrs. Chaplin said the other day, "but they really do not know him at all. They see only the little slap-stick comedian who throws pies, falls down, does funny stunts with cigarettes and canes and hats, or jumps about like a penguin.

"Charlie Chaplin himself is an altogether different individual. He is a rational, dignified, yet very sympathetic person, and I learned to love him because I found that way down under his make-up there is a serious mind that is constantly concentrating on greater, more worth-while things than making a monkey out of himself.

"Charlie Chaplin is a far better actor than nine per cent of the so-called legitimate performers in the United States today. He is capable of great things and some day he will surprise everybody in a picture that will make the world sit up and gasp."

Mrs. Chaplin refrains from indulging in any plans concerning her appearance with her husband on the screen but says she will not appear with him in comedies.

"Do I think Charlie capable of serious work on the screen?" she repeated when asked. "I most certainly do. I'll tell you of a little incident. "When I was working on "When a Girl Loves, Charlie came over and watched and then said, "Let me suggest a more effective bit of business." It may sound like boasting but we followed his suggestion, and the result was the "biggest punch" as far as my work was concerned, developed in that scene.

"Mr. Chaplin, you can do serious work", Miss Weber exclaimed, but Charlie only smiled. "Some day," he said, "I'll show you."

Miss Harris, a Los Angeles society girl, first met Charlie when she was taken under the managerial wing of Lois Weber and was working in her first picture, "The Price of a Good Time." She was only seventeen years old. Charlie became attracted to her and, with her, saw that picture not less than half a dozen times.

Munich in History. With the history of Munich the name Louis is inseparable. It was Louis the Severe who, in the thirteenth century, gave the city a start by living there, and Emperor Louis, the Bavarian, next in succession, who built the first city wall. The city owes its beginning to Duke Henry the Lion, who established a mint there in 1158 and built a bridge across the Isar so he might levy toll on the salt from springs of Reichenhall and neighboring villages. The city occupies the site of the ancient monastery Tegernsee, hence its name (munichen, the monks).

Stephen Sacksteder brings home one of the best stories of the war which he says travelled all over the A. E. F. from one outfit to another. It was supposed to have happened in the Meuse-Argonne and goes as follows: A doughboy's left arm had been blown off at the shoulder and he was wandering around looking for that arm and asking everyone if they had seen it. Finally a captain said, "What's the use of looking for that arm, it isn't any good to you any more." "The hell it isn't" said the doughboy. "my wrist watch is on it."

Failure Always Has Its Price. A London magistrate declares there is no such thing as a man having a right to take his own life. This dictum is no doubt morally sound, but all the same isn't there something queer about the law which punishes a man who tries to commit suicide and fails—Vancouver News.
