CHURCH NOTES

Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. Just a word of warning to the ladies: the men are twelve ahead of you. Now, if you don't want to give that big supper at the close of the contest you had better come out. Visitors are always welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Anderson went to Aurora Wednesday to visit Mrs. Reynolds, who is again at the hospital there having an operation on her foot.

Mr. Henry Hedrick and Romanzo Lacey motored to Dixon, Ill., Sunday. Mr. Duel went to Pennsylvania Friday to attend the funeral of a sister. He returned Tuesday evening.

George Schultz spent a week in Downers Grove with his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schultz.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barnacle returned home from their honeymoon trip Monday night. They had a delightful trip thru the East visiting at Washington, D. C., Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other places of interest.

Mrs. O. Colman and son Edward of Chicago, are spending a few days at Grandview Farm. The Advance Bible Class had a jolly time at a weenie and marshmallow roast in Mr. Duel's woods Friday evening.

Born, July 2nd, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Rohlfs, a daughter. Born, July 3d, to Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Whitney, a girl. Mrs. Davis and daughter, Miss Lillian of Omaha, Neb. are visiting her mother, Mrs. Bateman on South Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hindman are the proud parents of a thirteen pound daughter born July 10th. Mrs. Rando and Mrs. Harry Courtright and children, Mrs. E. White, T. Holland, Art Rose and Glen Edwards spent a delightful day at Manhattan Beach last Wednesday.

Friends of Mrs. W. W. Alford gave her a surprise at her home last evening. Those present were Messrs and Mesdames J. Wells, W. S. Waples, Ballard Waples, Dr. F. Kenison, F. E. Mayer, C. H. Hartman, Robert Buck, Mrs. Cora Rando, Miss Flossie Rando, Mrs. Harry Courtright, Mrs. Ellen A. Southurst and Miss Hattie Costello.

During the last week or two many new residents have arrived on the North Side. They are mostly we mites and the proud and happy possessors are: Mr. and Mrs. Towsley, a girl; Mr. and Mrs. Ed De Groot, a boy; and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Milicy, a boy.

While bathing in the Du Page river George Morey, aged 12 years, son of C. M. Morey the Q agent at Naperville, was seized with cramps and drowned. Have Strong Hold on Life. Even earth worms are among the creatures that can lie dormant in a dried-up state.

"YOU'RE FIRED"

At the Dicke Theatre Tuesday, July 22nd. Billy Deering loves Helen Rogers and his proposal of marriage gains her willing acceptance. He boldly asks Gordon Rogers, railroad magnate and financier for the hand of his daughter.

He is surprised at Roger's cool rebuff, but doesn't give up and asks his reason. They argue the matter for awhile and Rogers finally agrees that if Billy can work for three months time without being one "ired for incompetence, that he shall have the girl. Billy promises to keep the terms of this agreement a secret from Helen and telling her that he is called away on important business, he sets out to carry out his end of the pact.

Billy applies to an orchestra leader who wants a xylophone player and gets the job. For ten long weeks, he plays with the nimble touch of an artist. Then Mrs. Ogelthorpe of the smart set, gives a dance and the orchestra of which Billy is a member, furnishes the music. Of course, Helen is there and soon recognizes Billy in spite of his professional attire and a fake mustache. Helen pleads for Billy to stop being foolish and come out and dance. She can't understand his refusal and of course he can't enlighten her. She vows that she will never see him again. This only delights Tom, Billy's rival, who has been wooing Helen.

In the meantime, Rogers has completed an important merger of his road and is desirous of keeping the details a secret. But Tom has an uncle, Horace Graham who would give a fortune to get his hands on said merger. Graham knows of Tom's acquaintance with Helen and tells Tom that if he will secure the merger for him, he will give him enough money to pay off his numerous debts. Tom hires two crooks to aid him in his plan.

Tom and the crooks are turned over to the police. The old clock tolls out twelve strokes which marks the end of the three months test imposed upon Billy. Billy explains to all present his agreement with Rogers and Helen now understands fully. Rogers wrings his hand and Helen goes to his arms and tells him that now he has a steady job for life, whereupon he tells her he only asks for one thing of her—that she doesn't fire him.

Cause of Improvement. A dispensary official had returned from a month's holiday, and called to see an Irish patient "who was generally as crum as two sticks." After a few preliminary remarks the patient congratulated the doctor on his improved appearance. "Faith, doctor, the holiday has done yez good—yer as brown as a berry an' as light ov fut as a rag-man!" "I can return the compliment, Mick; you seem to be greatly improved," said the doctor. "Och, sorr," replied Mick. "O'fve mendid ivry hour since the mint yez went away!"
