TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

From the issue of July 22, 1897.

Thos. Kidder and Miss Crandall of Aurora, rode down this morning on a tandem and spent the day with Miss Carrie Colwell.

"Shooting the chutes" was indulged in Friday by John Rutherford, C. R. Caldwell, W. S. Carpenter, W. H. Edwards and their wives, together with Baby Bliss.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves started Wednesday morning for a weeks visit in Knox County.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morton leave next week for a visit in New York.

Messrs John Rutherford and Walter Whiffen left Saturday for a months tour through the West.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Heckman of Chicago, rode out on their wheels Saturday and spent Sunday with his brother, A. R. Heckman and family, returning home Monday.

Four hundred members of the Illinois Division Century road club passed thru here Sunday on their wheels on their annual run over the Aurora-Elgin course.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brayburn was found dead in her bed at East Grove Monday morning. Funeral services were held Wednesday. Mrs. Brayburn was one of the oldest settlers of Chicago coming West in a prairie schooner with her husband in 1835 and living in a log cabin at Market and Randolph Streets for many years.

The Dicke Tool Co. have installed a great deal of new wood working machinery and are getting out lock ferule screwdrivers, an invention of Mr. Dicke's.

"SECRET SERVICE"

At Dicke Theatre July 31st
At a period in the great struggle between the North and South, when Richmond, the capitol of the Confederacy, was beleaguered by the Northern forces, a plan was developed to bring about the easy capitulation of the city to the Federal army.

This strategic move was inaugurated by the entry of Lewis Dumont, a captain in the Army of the United States, into Richmond, in disguise. Disguised as a Confederate captain, Dumont, while making his way into Richmond, saves the life of Howard Varney, a Southern officer who has been wounded. Lewis is brought into Richmond with other maimed officers and soldiers and gives his name as Captain Thorne. Thru Varney's introduction he is given entry to the Varney mansion and meets Edith, the sister of the man he saved. They fall in love with one another.

Arriesford, a rejected suitor of Edith's, is the head of the Confederate Secret Service. He is suspicious of Lewis, and his jealousy makes him indefatigable in running him down. Henry Dumont allows himself to be made a prisoner by the Confederates and brought into Libby, in order to convey to Lewis word that on a given night the false orders must be sent as prearranged. Arriesford orders the opportunity of escape to be given Henry and then has him tracked to the Varney mansion, where the brothers come face to face with each other.

Arriesford hopes that Lewis will betray himself, but the quick wit of the brothers defeats him, and when Lewis hesitates to act Henry shoots himself so that Lewis may appear to have done his duty in apprehending an escaped prisoner. Henry dies of the self-inflicted wound, but Lewis by that act is temporarily cleared and allowed to pass on to the telegraph office to act on the message Henry has given him.

Arriesford's efforts finally convince the authorities of Lewis' guilt, and Lewis is arrested at the Varney mansion, where he has fled from the telegraph office, seeking news of his brother. Lewis is hastily courtmartialled and sentenced to be shot as a spy, but the intercession of the Varney family wins commutation of his sentence to one of imprisonment, and after the war Lewis and Edith are united.

The law allowing 4 per cent on a one-third valuation having been repealed.

The polls of which election will be opened at 2 o'clock p. m. and closed at 6 o'clock of the same day.

By order of the Board of Education of said District. Dated this 23rd day of July 1919.

James R. Shaffer, President of Board of Education. Fred E. Dowe, Secretary of Board of Education. 7-25-1-C

Algerian Women Did Well.
In no countries have the barriers which have hedged women in been broken down to a larger extent by the war than in Mohammedan countries. The women in Algiers took charge of the estates of their husbands, who had gone to fight, or who, in many cases, had gone to France to work in munitions plants and factories for higher wages than those they could command at home. The women seem to have used their new independence well. They subscribed heavily to the government loans.

WINS HIGHEST EMBLEM

Donald Van Valen and Other Local Scouts Received Rewards at Camp Checaugau.

In the presence of Mr. J. A. Wauchoppe, Chicago Scout Executive, Mr. Orton L. Duggan, Field Scout Executive of the North Shore District, Commissioner Moritz Bendheim, Northwest District, Chicago, H. C. Reihle, of Downers Grove, Ill., the final awards earned by the first period campers were made.

Nine scouts received the Honor Camper's award, scouts who have helped to make the camp a success, whose departure is regretted by the Staff. Those receiving these awards were:

- Wm. J. O'Neill, Jr., Troop 2 D. G.
Walter Mattick, Troop 23
Geo. Atkinson, Troop 23
Gayell Newell, Troop 23
Geo. Burt, Troop 23
Wm. Ellis, Troop 2 D. G.
Geo. Ray, Troop 2 D. G.
Paul Wenzel, Troop 2 D. G.
Ralph Henderson, Troop 54
Donald VanValen of Troop 2, Downers Grove, was awarded the Best All-around Camper's emblem.
Satisfactory campers, those who have cheerfully performed all duties and have had a good time and have made the most of their opportunities in camp were the following from Troop 2, Downers Grove.
Eugene Foster Carl Reihle
John E. Vaughan Wm. Butler
Lyman Dum Richard Rumbaugh
Arnold Klein Vernon Fuller
Wm. Watson R. L. Carpenter
John Dawson

A heavy rain in camp Monday brot inches of gloom, but all campers rallied and Mr. Gloom lay in state Tuesday afternoon, and with much darning and beating of tom-toms was ushered to the blazing camp fire and the flames consumed his ignoble bier.

All First Class Scout aspirants made their 14 mile hike over the neighboring countryside Tuesday afternoon while the rest of camp hiked to Lake Zurich.

A hot field meet consisting of contests in pole boxing, crab racing, 3-legged racing, centipede racing, sack racing, blindfold racing made Wednesday afternoon's sport program period an exciting one. Tent A, occupied entirely by scouts from Troop 23, Northwest District walked off with the blue ribbon.

The charge at Chateau Thierry had nothing on that which the valiant scouts on the Chippewa and Pottowatomie teams made in their big war game of Thursday afternoon. Many scalps were severed from their moorings and the Pottowatomies came out victoriously with 13 scalps, Chippewas only having captured 6.

Friday the campers were divided into groups and set forth into the woods to build their own fire with which to cook their own dinner. The majority of the scouts succeeded in passing their Second and First Class requirements in this line.

The thrill of seeking a buried treasure such as is described in Poe's "Gold Bug" was felt by the campers on Saturday afternoon as they went 10 degrees south of southwest to tree half dead, half alive, to a stump 50 paces beyond the largest oak in sight, etc., till finally near a large ant hill Tent "E" succeeded in finding the treasure, consisting of a candy treat and a little Indian doll.

At the evening camp fire Mr. J. A. Wauchoppe, Scout Executive of Chicago, told of his experiences with the Chippewa Indians. He had with him and old Indian medicine man's totem and a papoose bag of intricate bead work.

The booking agents for the various vaudeville circuits should visit the stunt show presented by the campers at the Saturday evening camp fire if they would seek real talent. Magicians, songsters, black-faced comedians, boxers, acrobats, and mimics, all had their turn. Tent "D" won the blue ribbon.

Fourteenth Century Love Token.
The Lincolnshire (Eng.) Architectural and Archaeological society has presented to the Lincoln City and County museum a charming little fibula of the time of Edward III or Richard II. The brooch is circular in shape and about half-an-inch across, and it was originally embellished with six emeralds. One of the emeralds is missing, but with this exception the specimen is perfect. An inscription on the back shows it to be a fourteenth century love token.

To Preserve Clothing.
Men's and women's clothing is often discarded before it is worn out because of the objectionable "shine" which appears on material after a short time. This condition can be remedied by sponging the shiny places on the garment with pure vinegar boiling hot. Rub the vinegar into the material plentifully and vigorously. Then press with pressing iron as usual. This process should be repeated whenever the shine reappears. Thrift Magazine.

Last Thursday evening a very happy family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Littleford, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Littleford. After the games the children presented their mother with an electric reading lamp. After dainty refreshments were served the guests departed hoping for many such pleasant gatherings.

Little Wilbert Mochel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mochel, was host to his neighbor children at a birthday party Tuesday afternoon. A table was set on the lawn where lunch was served and the afternoon enjoyed with various games.

Twenty-four local Camp Fire Girls who attended the camp near Benton Harbor, Mich., last week returned Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. Besides those mentioned last week, Frances Striker was a member of the party and through some oversight her name was omitted from the list. Five of the girls returned by train and the other nineteen with their guardian, Mrs. Brevillier, made the trip by boat. Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Benesley visited the camp while the girls were there.
