AMERICAN LEGION HAD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING MONDAY

Attendance Taxed Capacity of G. A. R. Hall as Plans for Future Were Discussed.

Ex-service men filled the G. A. R. Hall Monday evening almost to its capacity at a meeting of the local post of the American Legion. It was the largest gathering of ex-service men which has yet been held and an enthusiastic one.

Plans for coming activities of the post in regard to athletics were freely discussed. Henry Carner was appointed temporary baseball manager and Melvin Binder temporary captain until the team could organize and elect its regular representatives. It was decided that the north side field would be used only for the balance of this season. For future football and baseball games a site outside the corporation lines be selected if the cooperation of the townspeople could be secured.

The Legion's football team should prove a winner. There are any number of star players in the organization from former local teams. The it is a little early to talk football a general outline of the season will soon be in shape.

On Monday evening, August 25, the Legion will entertain Co. H and other friends at a smoker. A committee of five, Stewart Burns, chairman, was appointed to make all arrangements for this event. Each member will invite a friend, preferably his father, as a guest. A short entertainment will be given followed by a general talk.

An invitation tendered by the Woman's Club to the Legion to "put on" a program for them at their meeting, November 12th, was accepted. A committee was appointed to arrange for the program.

Resolutions were adopted urging Congress to pass the bill granting each discharged soldier, sailor and marine $180 or six months pay in addition to the $60 bonus already granted.

The next meeting of the Legion will be held next Monday evening, August 26th. At this time a committee on post activities will report. They will present a suggestive program of permanent departments and activities and an even larger attendance than at the last meeting is expected.

The local post of the American Legion is now a reality. Nearly a hundred applications for membership have been received and the post will be in the thick of every local question in the future.

Rightly run, it will be a big factor in the future life of the village, "civically" if we may be allowed to coin a word, and socially. These men have been broadened by travel. They are first, last and all the time—Americans; with a national consciousness to make America the best spot, in the world.

A greater part of them have seen living and social conditions in France, Italy, Belgium, England, Germany and other "mother countries" and want none of it in theirs. They are outspoken in their opinions of all foreign governments in comparison to ours and equally interested in shaping the future policies of the United States.

With several million men banded together throughout the country in one organization pledged to support a constructive program of legislation, conditions in the United States should take a change for the better in the next ten years.

GEORGE DICKE AND DAN DIENER "DARN NEAR MET"

George Dicke arrived home last Friday from service with the 4th Division in the A. E. F.

He returned on the Mount Vernon. One day while taking air on the voyage home he looked up at the bridge and saw an ensign "shooting the sun." In the words of George, "I thought the fellow looked like my old friend, Dan Diener, but couldn't get the connection between an officer apparently directing the steering of the ship and my old schoolmate, so I didn't make any inquiries. When I reached town I was talking to Reuben Diener and he asked what ship I came over on." I replied, "the Mount Vernon." So Reub. all excited, asked, "Did you see Dan?" Then I tumbled to the chance for a good old fashioned visit I had missed and said, "Yes! I saw Dan!"

The chance these two Downers boys missed for a visit at sea did not last long as Ensign Dan Diener arrived home Monday evening for a short visit. When asked about the trip over he said, "Yes, I understand we 'darn near met.'"

REGULATIONS REGARDING USE OF WATER REMOVED

The ban has been lifted on the use of water for sprinkling and hoses may now be used from seven p. m. until six a. m.

Mr. Gardiner, Superintendent of the Water & Light Plant, asks consumers to conserve water as much as possible. He says that with care enough water is now being pumped to carry us through the balance of the season without further regulation.

It is thought that a leak found in the big main on Highland avenue, where the creek runs into the tunnel, was responsible for the water shortage. The crack in the pipe was worn smooth from the action of the water flowing through. It is estimated that from 50,000 to 60,000 gallons of water a day was forced by the pressure through this split pipe.

If you are aware of a leak in a main anywhere in the village notify the authorities so that it may be fixed.

WANDER — LANDORF

One of the prettiest weddings of the season occurred last Saturday evening, August 9th, at St. Paul's Evangelical Church, when wedding bells sounded the knell of single blessedness for Miss Emma Wander, eldest daughter of Mr. Valentine Wander of Mr. Prince ave., and Mr. Edward Landorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Landorff of Naperville.

Mr. Emil Wander and Mr. Fred Schultz acted as ushers and succeeded admirably in seating the many friends and relatives of the young couple who packed the little church to capacity.

The altar was a veritable bower of flowers, ferns and plants while the seats were marked off with crepe paper. As the first strains of Ludwig's Wedding March, rendered by Mrs. Chester J. Winter, pealed forth the bridal party entered and proceeded to the altar where the Rev. W. Grotefeld awaited them.

The bride, on the arm of her father, was preceded by little Miss Florence Wander carrying the flower basket and Master Robert Wander, carrying the ring on a white satin pillow. The bride was followed by her bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Wander, the Maid of Honor, Miss Hazel Stank, Miss Elsie Smith of New Brighton, Pa., and Miss Grace Haunesser. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Louis Landorff, Mr. Fred Wander, Mr. Henry Springborn and his cousin Mr. George Landorff.

As they arrived at the altar the strains of the Wedding March died away and Rev. Grotefeld spoke a few words as befitting the occasion and then followed with the single ring ceremony and a prayer. Miss Anna Grotefeld then favored the assembly with a delightfully rendered vocal selection.

The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and was beautifully gowned in white satin with an overlay of white georgette and silver trimmings.

The bridesmaids carried shower bouquets of pink carnations and wore the rainbow colors, georgette crepe with picture hats to match.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests returned to the Wander home where one hundred friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Landorff indulged in a supper and dancing on a platform having been laid on the vacant lots north of the house.

Congratulations and well wishes were showered plentifully on the happy young couple and in the midst of the festivities they hid themselves to Chicago by automobile where they will spend a few days enjoying their honeymoon.

The presents bestowed upon this popular young couple were numerous and beyond description.

They will be at home to their many friends after September first at the home of the bride on North Prince Avenue.
