League Running Strong.
In the local league Bertolin's Cubs are still holding the lead with the Dicke Tool Co. team running second. Tied for third are Klein's Colts and Swearingen's Pace Makers. Greater interest is being manifested by both contestants and onlookers as the season progresses and the teams toward the bottom are making every effort to displace the leaders.

Side Line Strikes.
George Vix and Schlauder, the speed demons, were up against each other last Tuesday and Vix had the edge by 95 pins.

McElroy was low man with the Cubs last week.

Near is going strong.
Kidwell's Speeders, the tail enders, are girding up their loins and will soon be making a bid for a higher position. They won two out of three games the other night, the first time this has happened.

AMERICAN FARMERS ARE ORGANIZING A NATION'L BUREAU

A National Organization of Farmers, built from the farm up was launched in Chicago November 12, 13, and 14. This temporary organization represents 500,000 men who own or operate farms in 34 states and are members of county Farm Bureaus. Illinois has 74 county farm bureaus and the farmers of the counties run their Farm Bureaus. The members of these farm bureaus started the Illinois Agricultural Association which is their state business organization located in Chicago. It was the I. A. A. and other similar state organizations that started the National Farm Bureau Federation.

These farmers coming from all cer-ners of the United States want a real farmers organization, with a membership of bonafide farmers with brains, power and money enough to really represent and promote their big business. They want an organization that will stand for Americanism while it is doing these things. A constitution was agreed upon by these states and as soon as 10 states ratify it, the executive committee will call a meeting for March 3 at which time the organization will be made permanent. The membership of the organization will be State Farm Bureau Associations. The membership is $250. to $1,000. per state, to be set by the executive committee. In addition each state shall pay in 10 percent of the fees received by farm bureaus from farmers. In the case of Illinois there are 35,000 farm bureau members paying $10. each, making $35,000. the Illinois Agricultural Association would pay in. Each state will have one director and one additional director for each 20,000 paid up membership in the state association. The executive committee which is elected by directors, is composed of three men in each of four sections of the country, northeastern, southern, midwestern and far western, and not more than one man from any one state. H. J. Sconce of Vermillion county, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association and executive for Illinois on the National Federation outlined the work of the Federation as in his address of welcome. Mr. Sconce said the things to keep uppermost in mind is that the farm business is a producing and selling business and not a buying business. He advised getting laws giving the farmer the right to market co-operatively. "Farmers must have the right to co-operate and sell the products of their labor. This will not only insure us a profit but it will decrease the cost to the consumer. We must work for a stabilization of markets and food prices, reducing the wild fluctuation of grain and live stock markets, by controlling the flow of these products to the markets. We should assist the Government in perfecting a reliable crop report system for the entire world. We must find out what the world needs and produce it. "We should insist that a federal board be created to advise the making of contracts with this or any other Government for food products, thereby disposing of a part of our products by contract price which would help stabilize the price on the remainder. The great idea should be to control our food products until they get much closer to the ultimate consumer than they do at the present time. "We shall organize, not to fight any one, or to antagonize but to co-operate and construct, managing the affairs of business agriculture in a broad business manner. The farmer was left out at the Industrial conference in Washington and yet his business is the most important of all." The 400 farmers that talked these things over displayed a unity of spirit of Americanism and loyalty.
