One-Thing-at-a-Time-O'Day

A laughter-compelling comedy and a gripping story of the saw-dust ring dealing with the precise habits of a young man who believes that to accomplish anything worth while it is necessary to concentrate on one thing at a time. He is consistent in that he practices what he preaches—even in love—and proves his contention by achieving everything he sets out to do—a fact which causes many unexpected and laughable situations.

"The Uplifters"

A delightfully original story written by Wallace Irwin and published in the Saturday Evening Post. It is an amusing satire on the "unshackled free" who believe in uplifting the world by upsetting the traditions of convention. The picture is brilliantly played and is full of amazing surprises.

Sis Hopkins

"Sis Hopkins," the very name is reminiscent of the homey atmosphere of the country life of America. Here is a story that is replete with action and yet is pastoral in its simplicity. Mabel Norman in "Sis Hopkins" is all that a great screen star should be. Don't miss her.
