The elusive groundhog came out of his winter sleep with a sigh, Monday noon, stretched himself, yawned and said to his mate, "Well, guess I'll have to be getting outside and see if the sun is shining or the humans will be disappointed." He then crawled out, dodged a stone which a small boy shied in his direction, crawled back, and reported, "Go back to sleep, wife, I saw my shadow, all right, thank goodness, 'cause that ole bed sure felt good."
O. B. Ostewig, station agent in the absence of J. L. Remmers, called the attention of Jerry Corcoran to a robin sitting in a tree on the east side of Main st. the other day. Seriously, though, robins frequently do spend the winter in this climate and those "early robins" reported so frequently in the newspapers are the ones more bold than their brothers and sisters who go south for the winter.

Flubdub vs. Real Worth
THERE IS A LOT OF CAMOUFLAGE AND FLUBDUB IN CLOTHING NOWADAYS. A FANCY POCKET HERE, A FANCY TOUCH THERE, A WORTHLESS CLAIM OF SUPER-QUALITIES, OFTEN TAKING THE PLACE OF REAL WORTH!
It takes brains and effort to produce high grade clothes. Also all-wool fabrics, good linings and good trimmings.
Quality is inborn, not veneered on the outside. The test of wear soon tells. Hard knocks show if a garment is true blue or only an imitation.
Perhaps you have an idea the cost of genuine custom tailoring is excessive. Then a surprise awaits you here. Isn't $42.50 for a tailored-to-measure suit reasonable? We can furnish you with one for that price—and it will be honest—ALL THE WAY THROUGH!
