CHICAGO TELEPHONE

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chicago Telephone Company, November 24th, Edgar Selden Bloom and William Rufus Abbott were elected directors and vice-presidents. Mr. Bloom was also made a member of the Executive Committee. Mr. Abbott, who for several years has been general manager of the company, retains that title.

EDGAR SELDEN BLOOM

Mr. Bloom is a veteran in the Bell Telephone organization. He began his telephone career with the New York Telephone Company in 1897 as a construction engineer for New York City. He has held important executive positions with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph Company. On January 31, 1914, Mr. Bloom was appointed one of the receivers of the The public is cordially invited to Central Union Telephone Company in attend the services and to visit and Chicago. At the conclusion of the receivership, in 1919, he was elected president of this company. During the past year he has also been elected president of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company and The Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

WILLIAM RUFUS ASSOTT

Mr. Abbott's telephone career began in 1889, when he became cashier of the Westchester New York Telephone Company. He served this company and the New York Telephone Company until 1893, when he At the last session of the Sunday came to Chicago and entered the Chicago Telephone Company organization as clerk for the general superintendent. Since then he has occupied successively the positions of year on Sunday evening in connection chief clerk to the general superintendent, with a short address on the meaning special agent in charge of rights of way and claims; superintendent, suburban division; general commercial superintendent and gendal manager.

Christmas Tous the Boys Can Make By A. NEELY HALL

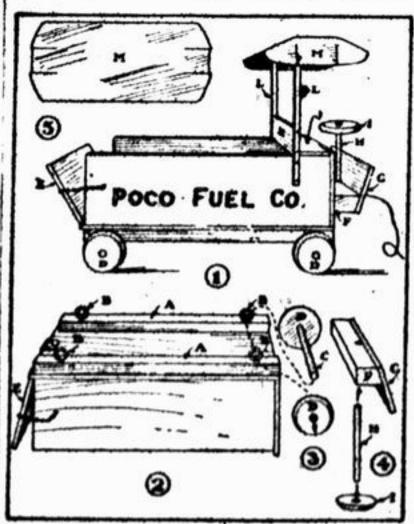

(Copyright by A. Neely Hall.)

When painted in bright colors, the toys shown in the illustrations will be as pleasing to those young relatives whom you wish to remember on Christmas, as any similar toys in stores.

The auto truck shown in Fig. 1 has a cigar-box body 5 inches wide, 8 inches long and 2 inches deep. Cut wooden strips A (Fig. 2) 1 inch wide and I inch thick, by the length of the box, and nail them to the box bottom close to the sides. Screw strips. The screweyes should be 1/4 inch in diameter, because the wheel ling axles C (Fig. 3) must be of this diameter to fit the holes of the spool wheels day of December A. D., 1920. D. The wheels are spool ends. Remove the rear end of the box and hinge it to the box bottom (E, Fig. 2). for an end gate. Fig. 4 shows a detail of front platform, F. dashboard G. steering-post H, and steering-wheel I-a spoolend. Fusten these pieces as indicated. Fit seat J across the box top, and seat back K to its edge. Nail canopy supports L to the sent back and box sides, and tack the canopy M to the supports near the top,

The clown turner (Fig. 6) is made to perform upon his turning-pole by squeezing the lower end of the uprights. The squeezing causes a pair of threads F (Fig 11) to untwist then twist, and the untwisting and twisting makes the clown turn.

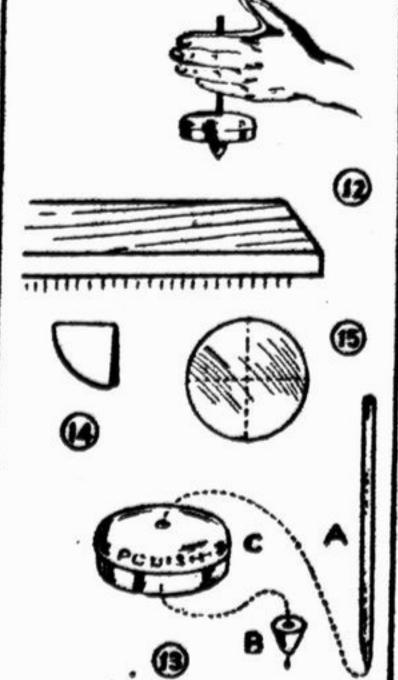

Fig. 7 shows dimensions for uprights A and connecting block B. Fasten B between strips A as shown. Patterns for the clown are shown in Figs. 8, 9 and 10. Cut the body members out of cigar-box wood, punch holes where indicated, and with pieces of hairpins or other small wire, pivot the arms and legs to the body. Pierce a small hole through each hand, and whittle the ends of a match to fit in the holes. The match (E. Fig. 7) forms the turning-pole. With a coarse needle pierce a pair of holes through the arms at the wrists, and another pair through uprights A near the top. Run heavy linen threads through the holes in the wrists, and twist their ends (F. Fig. 11), then run the ends through the holes in uprights A, and tie. The threads must be twisted when the clown hangs down (Fig. 11), untwisted when he has swung up over the pole.

The top in Fig. 12 requires little To have it done right and reasonable description. A pencil with a blunt point (A. Fig. 13) pushed through a spool whittled cone-shaped (B), forms reversed. the spinning point, and a shoe-polish can (C), pierced to push over the pencil end and rest upon the spool end, completes the top. The cop is spun by twirling the pencil between the paims, in one direction, then the other alternately (Fig. 12).
