IMPROVEMENT OF PET STOCK

Officials of Bureau of Animal Industry
Puzzled as to Where to Draw Dividing Line
Applications to recognize the improved breeding of such stock as Belgian hares, wild ducks raised in captivity, game birds, and dogs is making it difficult for officials of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, to determine just where the dividing line between farm live stock and other animals, including pet stock, should be drawn in developing the "Better Stock - Better Stock" campaign.

SOY BEAN GROWING POPULAR

Rapidly Becoming Crop of Special Importance Because of Big Possibilities of Seed.
The soy bean has become a crop of special importance throughout the country, which is indicated by the large acreage devoted to it in 1920 and the increased interest in the possibilities of the seed for food and for oil.

Easy Method

You can judge whether apples are ripe or not by the signs they give.

"Ham" Belongs With Comedy as Well as Eggs

"Ham and eggs," and "Ham and Bud" were long two American favorites. Now "Ham," under his more dignified and real name, Lloyd Hamilton, heads his own comedy company and will be seen January 29th, at the Dicke Theatre in "Duck Inn," second of the Mermaid Comedies, which is promised as one of the fastest-moving pieces of folly ever screened. Particular emphasis is placed on the unexpected turns the action takes, promising something new in comedy effects.

VALUE OF SILAGE

One ton of silage equals one ton of sugar beets.
Three tons of silage equal one ton of clover hay.
Three and one-half tons of silage equal one ton of lucerne hay.
Two and one-fourth tons of silage equal one ton of marsh hay.
One-half ton of silage equals one ton of pumpkins.

PREPARE FOR SPRING LABOR

Machines and Implements of All Kinds Should Be Overhauled and Needed Repairs Made.
Better bring in all the machinery not in use and start to get ready for spring. Take off the plows, put them where they will be handy to get to the blacksmith's and see that the cultivator shovels are cared for. Don't wait until the blacksmith is rushed to have the disks sharpened. He will do a better job if allowed to take his time.

SILAGE CARRIERS TO FACILITATE FEEDING

Equipment Need Not Be Elaborate or Expensive.
Convenient Arrangement for Carrying Feed to Bunks is Shown in Illustration—One Silo is Emptied at a Time.

For steer feeding, silage is cheap and efficient. Whether it is fed to breeding cattle, fattening steers, stockers or baby heaves, there is no other feed in the corn belt that can entirely replace it at the same low cost.

An equipment for feeding silage conveniently is shown in the illustration. It is not elaborate or expensive, but is made strong and serviceable. There are three long, flat-bottomed feed-bunks, each 4 feet wide and 36 feet long.

The Silage is Carried to the Feed Troughs in a Very Short Time.
They are made of 2-inch lumber and are supported by 3-inch wrought-iron pipe set in concrete.

The carrier-tracks are supported from above by steel posts and plank girders. They connect the silage chutes and the feed bins. All the carrier-tracks are connected, so that one silo can be emptied at a time. The feed-bunks are used for both silage and grain feeding.

Feeders generally plan to have the feed-bunks low, as high troughs have caused sagging backs in steers.—W. E. Prudden, in Popular Science Monthly.

Applications to recognize the improved breeding of such stock as Belgian hares, wild ducks raised in captivity, game birds, and dogs is making it difficult for officials of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, to determine just where the dividing line between farm live stock and other animals, including pet stock, should be drawn in developing the "Better Stock - Better Stock" campaign.
