MANY INTERESTING DEVICES SEEN AT CRAFTMANS SHOW

Latest Machinery For Printing Offices are Being Shown at Coliseum This Week.

Many and varied are the interesting devices for the turning out of printing of all kinds to be seen this week at the Graphic Arts Exposition at the Coliseum in Chicago.

This is a bringing together of everything necessary for the installation of the most up-to-date printing office. Automatic feeding devices, accessories which make an ordinary job press do almost impossible things and the last word in type setting machines, all these and many more are to be seen in operation.

It is the annual convention of the International Clubs of Printing House Craftsmen and the Graphic Arts Exposition is a side issue.

Even the ordinary man on the street would find these things to be of interest and one can imagine the delight a printer takes in wandering down the long aisles, getting a glimpse of what a wonderful industry he is connected with.

The Reporter has a few tickets which will be gladly handed out to those who would like to visit the show.
