all parts of the church came suggestions. The childish voices telling of their faith in song were very impressive.

Mr. Kehrl then demonstrated how the lessons were taught the children so that they would understand and retain them.

It was very interesting and one could easily see why the children themselves have been such regular attendants and have been so keenly interested in the Daily Vacation Bible School.

One of the most interesting parts of the program was the contest to see which of the students had remembered the most texts from the Bible.

Following the session the exhibit of work done interested the spectators and the judges announced the prize winners for the best work done.

Those whose handiwork was considered worthy are as follows:

- Bookcase—1st, Lyman Hall, 2d, Irwin Zarn.
Hammock—1st, Spencer Lott, 2d, Howard Gregory, 3d, Delbert Leverenz.
Brass Work—1st, Pharold Toombs; 2d, Jean Nargney; 3d, Catherine Rassweiler.

This concert is free to the public and takes the place of the open air service on the Methodist Church lawn.

The religious part of the evening program will be brief and is under the auspices of St. Paul's Evangelical Church, who will furnish the speaker.

The speaker for the evening will be the Rev. Fred Frankendorf, pastor of the largest church in the Evangelical Synod at Rochester, New York.

The Rev. Frankendorf should prove one of the most interesting of the speakers of the open air series.
