Compare, if you will, the kitchens of today with those of a few years ago.

No such "Dainty Dishes" then as now

Wherever gas is obtainable - and that is nearly everywhere nowadays - the gas range has taken first place in the kitchen. With the advance in modern conveniences. oven insulation, equipment and sanitary construction, there is no method of cooking more efficient for all purposes than gas. Even in remote country districts many householders cook by gas, depending upon shipments of gas in tanks.

As for the big cities, who could imagine then: without gas ranges? Try to picture one of our ten-story multiple apartment houses with an old-fashioned coal stove in each apartment and you will realize how revolutionary has been the effect of using gas for cooking.

How much worse would things be if we lacked this sanitary and convenient means of obtaining heat at the moment it is needed.

The gas range has not only eliminated the irksome work of carrying and feeding fuel, but it has made possible cheerful. dainty, alluring kitchens in contrast to the dull and uninviting ones of a few years ago
