THE BOY SCOUTS

We know of no organization which is doing more good for the future male citizens of the country than the National Boy Scout Council through its local councils and scout troops. This may seem like a broad and sweeping statement but investigation will show that it is not far from the truth.

Boys are taken into the scout troops and taught not only scouting but how to live right. They are brought into contact with men who walk uprightly in the sight of God and man, who, by their own contact, as well as their counsel, teach the youngsters things which are good for them and which will help shape their lives along the paths of right thinking and right living, mentally, physically and morally.

A scout must live up to a certain set program. He must be fair, honest, courteous, industrious and willing to cooperate with others otherwise he is not a good scout.

We sometimes wonder why the parents of boys within the ages when boys are eligible to be scouts, do not investigate the movement a little closer and try to interest their sons in joining a troop. They would learn nothing which would do them the slightest bit of harm and would learn much which would help them.

All this leads up to the fact that the local council and the "Q" suburban district will soon make a campaign for funds to carry on the work during the year. If these few words will help along their efforts they will have served their purpose.

In making contributions you can be assured that your money will be spent economically. The district council spends less money and gets at least the same results, than the average of the country and much less than similar councils in this vicinity.

Back up the scout council—back up the local scouts—talk scouting to the boys you know. It's great stuff.

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY CELEBRATED BY W. C. BARTLE'S

On the afternoon of January 18, 1872 at the home of John A. Richards, three miles southwest of Down-ers Grove, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Emily C., to W. C. Bartle, the Rev. Jonathan Porter, of the Congregational Church officiating.

Wednesday, January 18, 1922, Mrs. W. D. Herrick gave a dinner at the Bartle home in honor of the 50th anniversary of this marriage. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Foster, Mrs. Lucy Stanley, Mr. L. P. Naramore, Mrs. Lavara Hannum, Mr. W. D. Herrick and Mrs. Harry Hall.

Later in the day the Rev. Phelps and Mr. J. L. Remmers called and in behalf of the Congregational Church presented them with $50.00 in gold.

In the evening their nieces, the Misses Louise and May Palmer, came out from the city and with the Herrick family composed another merry little party for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartle have two daughters, Mrs. W. D. Herrick, of Downers Grove and Mrs. A. W. Foster, of Michigan City, Indiana, and four grandchildren, Russell W. and Clarence A. Foster and Elmer D. and Bartle A. Herrick.
