His Last Appearance.

One night while I was washing dishes my boy friend called on me. He came into the kitchen where I was working, and in my excitement I set a pan of hot water on a chair. I turned around to do something, and my friend sat down on the pan of water! He was wearing a new suit. I never saw him again.—Chicago Journal.

CANADA THISTLE COMMISSIONERS HELD MEETING

Albert Wilson, Seed Analyst, Dept. of Agriculture, Present and Made Fine Talk.

At a meeting of the Canada Thistle Commissioners of DuPage County, called by Farm Adviser E. A. Carycross, and held on Tuesday evening of this week at Wheaton, for the purpose of discussing the law and the methods of enforcing same, the following were present:

Henry Dufer—Wayne N P Eggert—York Adolph Schalk—Addison Chas. Meadel—Lisle Wm J Meyers—Bloomingsdale Emil Geissler—Bloomingsdale V J Kuhn—Milton Joe Smith—Milton

The commissioners of the county not able to be present at this meeting were:

Jacob Veith—Downers Grove John Steffes—Winfield Naperville—No Appointment

Mr. Albert C. Wilson, chief seed analyst of the State Department of Agriculture, Division of Plant Industries, who is in charge of weed control, was present and explained the duties of the commissioners, and answered questions regarding the best methods of eradicating this rapidly increasing pest. It has been found that to put the land with patches of thistles into corn, and by cultivation of the crop, the tops are kept off; then by giving them the care with hand hoe every week during the balance of the season, the roots are prevented from producing any growth above ground, and therefore the roots are starved out. In some cases summer fallowing may be necessary.

After the session Mr. Wilson spent a day calling on the commissioners not present at the meeting. It is hoped that each and every land owner or occupant of land will cooperate with the commissioners in their efforts to assist the state department of agriculture in the endeavor to free Illinois of this menace to farm crops. Vacant lots in villages, towns and cities should be taken care of so that thistles and other weeds will not produce seed which could be scattered to the surrounding property by the wind, birds and animals. Any lot or farm owner neglecting to properly care for the thistles on his property thus causing the same to be taken care of by anyone so deputized by the law, will be obliged to pay the costs of such work along with his taxes the ensuing spring.

Now is the time to pull out noxious weeds such as curled dock and wild mustard, especially where they are present in clover fields intended for seed.
