WRITES LETTER TO MRS. LOTTIE O'NEILL

Democratic Candidate for Senator From Minnesota Tells of Campaign.

The following very interesting letter was received by Mrs. William J. O'Neill from Mrs. Anna D. Oleson, who is the Democratic candidate for the Senate from the State of Minnesota. It is in answer to a letter from Mrs. O'Neill congratulating Mrs. Oleson on her nomination.

June 24, 1922. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove, Ill My dear Friend:

I enjoyed your letter so much and I congratulate you on your winning in the primaries in April. I won in the Democratic primaries having spent less than $500 in the campaign in Minnesota, a very large state.

over the state for the last few years and have a wide acquaintance. There was no political trickery, no trading nor any underhanded work of any kind. We fought the fight in the open and I was much more concerned in taking my platform to the people than in pleading for votes for myself. The men accepted me just offhand in my political work. When it came to my being endorsed for this very high office there were some men who shook their heads dubiously wondering if a woman could get any votes at this time for a United States Senator but they were not unkind about it. I was very glad when two men filed against me so that we could test it out whether a woman could win or not, because I did not desire to be the party candidate unless I was stronger than anyone who filed against me. But the Convention endorsed me and the primaries endorsed the convention's choice.

The Democratic men of Minnesota have always been lovely to me, courteous and kind in every way and I owe them much for their helpfulness. I cannot say that any man has been against me politically because I was a woman.

Thanking you for your kind letter and wishing you all success, I am, Most cordially yours, ANNA D. OLESON.
