THE Dicke Theatre

$25 Reward

There is a rumor about town that I wish to nip in the bud. It has been said by various persons that "Blood and Sand" as shown at the Dicke Theatre this week lacked some of the scenes that are shown in the picture as presented at the Roosevelt Theatre in Chicago. I will pay to any one of these persons the sum of $25.00 if they can prove their statement.

The print we used for "Blood and Sand" had never been used before and is an exact duplicate of all other prints now in use in the leading theatres of the country. Furthermore, I witnessed the showing of "Blood and Sand" at the Roosevelt on the opening day and know that there was not a single scene shown that was not shown at the Dicke Theatre.

And this is true of all pictures. The print we will use for "Human Hearts" next week is the very print that would have been used at the Tivoli, had that theatre not postponed their showing of "Human Hearts" until the following week.

See it at the Dicke Theatre and see it right!
