

MERRY CHRISTMAS AT THE LIBRARY

Hours spent with good books bring us rest and entertainment, the best of company and a knowledge of life and thought and the world in general.

A girl or boy, man or woman, who has the good fortune to be able to turn to reading for his recreation has spread out before him the whole world to choose from for travel and companionship; and the young person who invites this taste has stored away riches for all his days, of which he can never be deprived.

So Downers Grove offers to its citizens old and young, this opportunity—and offers it more richly than many towns of its size.

The selection of books for the library, is carefully and thoughtfully made, that all the newly formed friends of the children may be worthy ones; and for the elders, there is a library of fiction and travel, history, biography, nature, art, poetry and economics, which will meet every taste.

Read this list of new books which will be on the shelves for the holidays—and then go to the library and see how temptingly it offers its riches in Christmas green and good cheer:

- For Boys and Girls
'The Fortune of the Indies,' by Edith Ballinger Price.
Polaris, by E. H. Baynes. The story of an Eskimo dog.
Daniel Boone—Wilderness scout.
The Story of Grenfell of Labrador.
The Black Wolf Pack—by Dan Beard
Blackbeard, Buccaneer — by Ralph D. Paine.
The Book of Best Stories Told from History—Retold by Hazel P. Hanshaw.
The New Boy Scout Year Book.
The New Harbour Books.
Red Robin—by Jane Abbott
Mehitable—by Katherine Adams. Delightful story of an American girl in a school outside of Paris.
Whisp. A Girl of Dublin—by Katherine Adams.
Little Missy—by Mauds Lindsay.
Puppy Dog's Tales—by Frances Kent.
The Children's Bible — by Henry A. Sherman and Charles Foster Kent.
The Boy Who Knew What the Birds Said—by Padraic Colum.
The Road of Loving Hearts—by Annie Fellows Johnston.
The Fortunate Days—Yale University Press.
Rootabaga Stories—by Carl Sandburg. Fancy and fun.
Solario the Tailor—Tales of a magic doublet by William Bowen.
David the Dreamer—by Ralph Berggren. Beautifully illustrated.
Mowbray Dick—by Herman Melville. Also fine illustrations.
For Older Readers
American Democracy—by Willis Mason West. A vivid narrative of the U. S.
Up Stream—by Ludwig Lewisohn. Another story of the making of an American.
The Outline of Science—3 volumes of intensely interesting science matter, natural history, inter-relation of living creatures, science of the weather, etc. The fourth volume coming. One of the most talked about books of recent publication.
Mind in the Making—by James Harvey Robinson. This book is so popular that another book has been placed upon the shelves.
Woodrow Wilson As I Know Him—by Joseph P. Tumulty.
Life and Letters of Walter H. Page. A delightfully entertaining and enlightening account of our relations with Great Britain during the war.
Public Opinion—by Walter Lippman. This book is the first attempt to explore and survey public opinion under modern conditions and in the light of modern knowledge of human nature. It is not a moralistic judgment, but a fundamental investigation. It deals also with such aspects of the inquiry as the underlying principles of censorship, propaganda, publicity, electioneering, news and intelligence work. Finally it raises the question as to the future of democracy.
The Rising Temper of the East—by Frazier Hunt. Sounding the human note in the world wide cry for land and liberty.
Throp Stoddard. The sane and thoughtful, sober and considerate American, troubled by the increased unrest, will find many of the questions that have come to him answered in this remarkable and suggestive book.
John Burroughs Talks—by Clifton Johnson. Throughout, the recorder keeps himself in the background, and it is John Burroughs who talks. The book is not only a valuable contribution to our knowledge of John Burroughs' personality, but it is also a notable and permanent addition to American biographical literature.
Books and Characters—by Lytton Strachey, the entertaining biographer of Queen Victoria.

UNIQUE DANCE AT LIBRARY HALL ON THURSDAY, DEC 28

Many Novel Features and Good Music to Make Masonic Temple Affair a Brilliant One

Theodore Druettel, Jr., chairman of the entertainment committee of the Masonic Temple association, has up his sleeve some of the most novel entertaining features ever pulled off at a local dance. These will be the feature of the ball to be given by the association at Library hall next Thursday night, December 28.

Many tickets to the dance have already been sold and those that are left are sure to be disposed of when the news travels around that Theo's brain has been busy evolving some unique, something unusual and something which will furnish much fun for all.

For those who prefer 500 will be played and we have been assured that there will be appropriate prizes for both the worst and the best players.

SOMETHING FOR MEN

Knowledge is power! Do you know? If not, why? Did you ever hear of a man getting an education in 26 hours? It is possible. Spent 30 minutes each Sunday with the Mens Bible Class of the First Baptist Church. The entire Bible in one year, one book each successive Sunday. 9:45 a. m. A big opportunity to secure a real knowledge of the Bible. Every man welcome.

- Fiction
One Man in His Time—by Ellen Glasgow. One of Miss Glasgow's strongest stories.
One of Ours—by Willa Cather. Claude Wheeler's stormy youth, his enigmatic marriage and the final adventure which releases the baffled energy of the boy's nature, are told with almost epic simplicity. But behind the personal drama there is an ever deepening sense of national character, working itself out through individuals and their destiny.
The Tale of Triona—by William J. Locke. I count myself a Locke man. If I can't borrow a new novel by him, I buy it. I do so because I know that I shall have entertainment, that I shall mix with people of breeding whether they be low born or high born, people with ideas and ideals, who behave themselves, and who take it for granted that there is something more in life than getting and spending.
My Discovery of England—by Stephen Teacock, the author of Nonsense Novels. Full of delicious fun.
The Man Who Knew Too Much—by G. K. Cherserton. Mystery stories of a new type with decided literary merit.

High School Notes

By "Jack," The Observer

D G H S opened its basketball season last Saturday night by losing to Deerfield 36 to 10. The game was exceedingly fast, especially on the part of the locals who worked the ball down the floor with much speed at all times but could not connect with the basket.

Great results are expected of the team this year.

- The schedule for the season is:
Dec. 16 — Deerfield — there.
Dec. 21 — Hinsdale — there.
Jan. 5 — Elmhurst — here.
Jan. 12 — West Chicago — there.
Jan. 19 — Naperville — here.
Jan. 26 — Glen Ellyn — there.
Jan. 27 — LaGrange — there.
Feb. 2 — Hinsdale — here.
Feb. 9 — Elmhurst — there.
Feb. 10 — LaGrange — here.
Feb. 16 — Glen Ellyn — here.
Feb. 17 — Naperville — there.
Feb. 24 — West Chicago — here.

The football banquet has been postponed. The students failed to cooperate in the buying of tickets.

We wish you A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Students and Faculty.

WILL YOU START

THE NEW YEAR... Perfect alignment of the spine means perfect health. Imperfect alignment means that one or more of the bones of the spine are out of the natural position. This produces pressure on the delicate nerves at the point where they leave the spine. Because the nerve is pinched the brain cannot get the full amount of life force over it. Whatever part of the body this pinched nerve supplies is bound to be weak and diseased, whether it is the heart, lungs, stomach, kidneys, etc., because every cell in the body receives its life force over the nervous system, and if the nerve is pinched this life force is decreased.

Chiropractic Adjustments will put your spine in line and health follows. Start the year right by investigating Chiropractic. I welcome investigators. Bring all your health troubles to C. Warren Valentine, Chiropractor, Opposite P. O. Office Tel. 217, Res. Tel. 89-W, Hours: 10 to 5 and 6 to 7 or by Appointment.
