HERE AND THERE WITH THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Upper left: Tamworth Women's Institute chartered a bus to pay a visit to Ottawa. Members from Reidville and Roblin Branches were invited. Thirty-four ladies in all spent one glorious, brimful day touring the Parliament Buildings, the Museum and the Winter Fair. After time out for shopping they met for dinner at the Chateau Laurier and afterwards a show.

Upper right: Matheson Women's Institute held its first Arts and Crafts Exhibit which included needlework, rugs and quilts and as well interesting displays of antiques and heirlooms. Above are pictured some of the executive viewing the needlepoint: Mrs. J. Morin, Mrs. H. Cartwright, Mrs. George Court, Mrs. Jack Miller and Mrs. Frank Roberts. Lower left: Roslin Women's Institute, Hastings East, honoured two charter members at Fortieth Anniversary. From left to right: Mrs. H. Chisholm, pres.; Mrs. M. E. Fargey and Mrs. D. P. Leslie, charter members; Mrs. Harry Sills, sec.-treas. A happy coincidence was noted. Mrs. H. Chisholm, pres., is a daughter-in-law of the first president and Mrs. Harry Sills, sec.-treas. is the daughter-in-law of the first vice-president.

prizes to S.S. No. 14 and S.S. No. 9 in Chatham Township for the best Kent school grounds for the past year.

Twenty-five American women, members of the Massena Home Bureau were the guests of the Cornwall Centre Women's Institute, Stormont Co., at their annual Grandmother's Meeting. The roll call was "Why I Admire Elderly Ladies".

Wooler, Northumberland West, records a meeting of the Women's Institute of Wooler, England, at which a motion of thanks to the Institute in Wooler, Ontario for food parcels was passed unanimously.

Many Institutes in the London Area have donated sheets, pillow-cases and blankets to Lady Denman Women's Institute College, Marcham, Oxford Co., England, and have received grateful acknowledgments through Miss Elizabeth Christmas, Warden.

The Institutes in North Oxford answered the roll call at the District Annual Meeting by giving a donation of linens for Denman College.

A Women's Institute Park in Demorestville has been officially opened. This is the culmination of a project undertaken in 1928 when a neglected lot was purchased. The ground had to be levelled, trees plan'ed and enclosed with a new fence. Now a new generation enjoy the swings, slides, teeter boards and sand-boxes in a beautiful park which is a real community centre.

Verschoyle, Oxford Co., with friends from Mount Elgin enjoyed a chartered bus trip to Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Michigan and toured the village, homes, workshops and other places of interest where important names are Edison, Wright Bros., Stephen Foster, Henry Ford and many others. On their return journey they had dinner in Windsor, and report a most enjoyable day.

Martintown, Glengarry, arranged a bus trip to Macdonald College. St. Anne de Bellevue, in August where an interesting program was provided.

Moyle-Tranquility, Brant North, arranged a bus trip to a peach orchard and packing house with a picnic lunch at Queenston Heights and a supervised tour through the Queenston-Chippawa generating station on the lower Niagara River, concluding the day with a dinner at Niagara Falls.

Kintail, Huron West, is to be congratulated on winning the $100 prize in the Canadian National Exhibition quilt competition. In the centre block of the quilt is a large maple leaf surrounded by designs representing farming, fishing, lumbering, mining and manufacturing typical of Canadian life.

Aberarder Branch, Lambton Co., has made many pleasant contacts among members of the Boscastle W.I. in North Cornwall, which they adopted. Parcels have been sent monthly. Recently two lovely oil paintings from Boscastle were received as an appreciation. A thank you card bore the names of all Boscastle members.

Many Institutes are devoting ten minutes at each meeting to review the book Fifty Years of Achievement.

Quaker Road, Welland: Some of the members who had lived all their lives in the vicinity had never visited the places mentioned in a lecture, "The American Revolution and the Coming of the Loyalists", given by Mrs. McInnis. The interest of the members was aroused to such an extent that the ladies decided to see these places. Twenty-one ladies made the trip.

Orillia, Simcoe North: Provision was made in this Branch for the care of the young children of any mother enrolling for the Short Course or District Project.

Cayuga, Haldimand: A debate, "Life Begins at Forty", created much interest with the affirmative side winning by two points.

Dutton, Elgin West: A member presented a paper on "The Institute Ode". The paper was of particular interest having been prepared for, and used on a program of Radio Station CKNX, Wingham.

Roseneath, Northumberland East: Following an interesting address on Newfoundland, the National Anthem of Newfoundland was sung.

Community, Northumberland East: A paper on the origin and early history of the churches of the community was prepared and presented at a meeting, then in order to give wider publicity, the history was published in the newspaper.

Bervie, Bruce East: The roll call was answered with "The History of our House" and some very interesting replies were received.
