

Home Economics Bulletin Service

These publications may be obtained from Home Economics Branch, Extension Service, Ontario Department of Agriculture, 1207 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, or from your local Agricultural Representative.

- Bulletin 367 — Pork on the Farm.
- Bulletin 466 — Salads All the Year Round.
- Bulletin 468 — Canning Ontario Fruits and Vegetables.
- Bulletin 470 — Your Money's Worth in Food.
- Bulletin 479 — Supper Dishes.
- Bulletin 495 — Potatoes Every Day.

- Bulletin 504 — Frozen Foods.
- Bulletin — Oven Meals.
- Bulletin — "Let's Cook it Right".
- Circular 77 — The Delectable Canadian Rutabaga.
- Circular 79 — Good School Lunches.
- Circular 82 — Foods That Healthy Children Like.
- Circular 83 — Your Food and Your Figure.
- Circular 244 — Spot and Stain Removal.
- Circular 245 — Pressing.
- Circular 248 — Fibres for Fabrics.
- Circular 265 — Hooked Rugs.

Fiftieth Anniversaries

(Continued from page 24)

secretary, the home economist of 1912 when Institute courses were started, the Red Cross knitter at the time of the first World War, food parcel packers in the last war.

Williamsford in Grey County celebrated its fiftieth anniversary in June. Mrs. Elma Schwandt, daughter of the first president, Mrs. W. Mitchell, reviewed the Institute's history, with special recollections of a meeting held in her home when Dr. Helen MacMurchy gave an address on Health. Another feature of the meeting was the reading of a report prepared in 1916 by the first secretary, Mrs. Alex. McClure. The North Grey District President, Mrs. Gordon Bothwell, spoke; the anniversary cake was cut by the oldest past presidents living, Mrs. Henry Nuhn and Mrs. George Miller.

Central Algoma has celebrated the fiftieth anniversaries of three branches—South Tarentorus with a banquet, Goulais Bay with a dinner and dance and West Korah with a social evening. Then the district celebrated with a banquet when all the branches of the district entertained the fifty-year-old ones.

Oxdrift, the first Institute in Kenora district, organized by Laura Rose in the little log school house, celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this summer. At the anniversary banquet Mrs. H. Latimer paid tribute to the charter members and the early officers and a corsage was presented to the only charter member present, Mrs. Steward Corner. Mrs. R. G. Purcell, past president of F.W.I.O., was guest speaker.

Welland District celebrated its fiftieth anniversary at a special luncheon at its District Annual meeting. A special table was reserved for the eleven past presidents and each president gave a two-minute speech reminiscing about events during her term of office.

In a class by itself was the fiftieth anniversary of Grey County. It will be a surprise to many Institute members that a county organization was set up as long ago as 1907. In a history of the organization, the county president, Mrs. Emerson Knott, reported that Mrs. James Gardiner of Kemble and Mrs. Walter Buchanan of Ravenna were coming home on the train from the Toronto convention fifty years ago when they discussed the idea of having a convention for Grey County. The convention was held the next year and one hundred women attended both afternoon and evening sessions, coming by horse and buggy (or horse and "democrat" waggon) from points all over this large county. Guest speakers at this convention were Mr. George Putnam and Dr. Helen MacMurchy. By 1923 the attendance had increased to 200 and in 1924 to 400. Agnes McPhail, a native of Grey and the first Canadian woman member of Parliament, was a frequent and popular speaker. Girls' work in the county was first reported in 1933 by Miss Alice Frizzell, an active club girl, now the wife of Elgin County's agricultural representative, Victor Langton. Miss Flora Durnin was appointed County Home Economist in 1934 and two years ago the Institutes established the Flora Durnin Grey County Women's Institutes Scholarship for homemaking club girls. In 1935 the name "County Convention" was changed to "County Rally." Mrs. Knott's report of the work of the the Institutes of the county from their earliest years up to their present county project of setting up the Nellie McClung Memorial was a high-ranking record of achievement.