

Mrs. A. B. Jackson, left, representing Stoney Creek Women's Institute, presents Dr. Margaret McCready, Principal of Macdonald Institute, with funds to provide an Annual Bursary to assist students at Macdonald Institute. The Bursary was established to commemorate the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Women's Institute at Stoney Creek. — OAC photo.

Miss Stephanie Fry of Dundas, Ontario, receives the first Stoney Creek Women's Institute Bursary from Mrs. Jackson. The award was presented at a recent prize-giving banquet at the College. — OAC photo.

Bloomington reports: "We do not have a Home and School Club here and we have found that keeping in close touch with the teachers and helping where we can, helps them as well as us. Having a guidance teacher speak at a meeting was most helpful to parents."

Peace Bridge provided a musical skit "The Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra" as the entertainment at a local Home and School meeting.

Singer's Corners recommends a talk on Civil Defence as being important to the whole community.

Conn strongly recommends an address by a remedial teacher with a discussion following.

Little Ireland: a panel discussion on our present school system and a talk by a public health nurse on preventing accidents to pre-school children in the home.

One of Rothsay's rather unusual features was a talk on The Life of Stephen Foster, with the group singing a number of his songs.

Troy used Radio and Television Evaluation as a panel discussion.

Orkney reports its meeting on Fire Prevention as being of particular interest. Firemen from a nearby town, Dundas, showed films on how to prevent fires on the farm and in the home and what to do in times of emergency. Different types of fire extinguishers were displayed and explained; also a resuscitator was demonstrated.

King also had the local Fire Chief give a talk on "Fire Prevention in the Home." Four members of the volunteer fire brigade demonstrated a fire extinguisher.

Strabane recommends a programme on Mental Health with the film "Shyness."

Binbrook had a clause of the Mary Stewart Collect for a motto topic at each meeting.

Carluk strongly recommends a study of the Hand Book.

Saltfleet had an interesting talk by a woman lawyer on laws pertaining to women.

Kettleby had a life saving demonstration with Boy Scouts and Cubs as guests.

Temperanceville, a programme in which a 4-H Homemaking girl gave a talk on her Two Nations' club tour to New York and Washington and a local Boy Scout showed a movie of the Scout Jamboree.

Agincourt studied the character and functions of United Nations in relation to the Women's Institute standing committees. Had a discussion on Succession Duties especially with reference to the tax paid by widows.

Community Interests

Inglewood bought a sewing machine for the school for retarded children at Orangeville.

Mono Road: Members did weekly baking for a needy family for five months.

Snelgrove put on a short play for the residents of Peel Manor. Most of the branches of North Peel hold one of their year's meetings at this Home.

Brampton East paid a $10 membership fee to the county library for which they receive fifty books every three months.

Brampton West took part in the project "New Lamps For Old." At the Bramp'ton Fair Centennial they put on an exhibit "Advances in Lighting."

Meadowvale owns and maintains a playground in the village. Britton did the canvassing for the chest X-Ray survey. Alice formed an auxiliary to work for the Home for the Aged.

Bromley brought a box of books from the travelling library for the use of the whole community. They report that they had a fine selection of books and that they were read by a great many people.

Forester's Falls has one meeting of the year conducted by local teachers, a meeting and social evening open to the public, another public meeting with educational films and a speaker from the Department of Lands and Forests; this branch