

Miss Flora Durnin, Grey County Home Economist, right, congratulates Margaret Moffatt as she receives the Flora Durnin Grey County Women's Institute Scholarship from the County President, Mrs. Gordon Bothwell.

They already have a 4H Homemaking Club and have been very successful.

Unionville found euchre and crokinole parties a satisfactory way of raising funds for local community work.

Elder's Mills held a variety concert and used the proceeds to sponsor a folk-dancing school for the community young people of twelve to twenty. The variety show was put on in three other communities, with a special performance for the entertainment of patients in the Ontario Hospital.

International and National Interests

The outstanding project of international interest this year was the "adopting" or sponsoring of children in various parts of the world through the Save the Children plan. The last issue of Home and Country carried a report gathered by writing to the first one hundred Institutes to apply for a child. Since these branches were heard from, others — well over three hundred — have undertaken to help children in need.

Margaret Marshall, Algoma Centre: "Members dressed in the costume of a foreign country gave a two-minute talk on the country and displayed a picture of the flag."

MacLennan: "Members are more interested in Federated News having known the national president, Mrs. Haggerty, as our provincial president."

At Wharncliffe's International meeting "each member brought a picture of a flag of a country in the United Nations, told the history of the flag and the country's motto or creed." The report adds: "The Citizenship Convener gave a report of Canada's part in the work of the United Nations and the Secretary showed slides of our Beautiful Algoma."

Two members of Burgoyne wrote to two Institutes in the North West Territories and received replies.

Kars had a roll call: "How I can contribute to peace."

Roseland had an International Luncheon, with dishes prepared by members including Chinese Chop Suey, Italian Meat Balls and Spaghetti, Yugoslavian Cabbage Rolls, English Trifle, Scottish Short Bread, Canadian Green Salad.

Dundalk had an interesting paper on The Life of Mrs. Alfred Watt and the A.C.W.W. and a description of Australia's Institute or Country Women's Association meeting conducted by radio.

Quinte had a program on the theme "World Friendships." Each member was to bring a friend. There were talks on "Greece, the fountainhead of Western Civilization" and on United Nations.

Dashwood had a speaker on Communism "and why it must not be allowed to creep into our democracy."

Providence had a paper on Institutes from the beginning at Stoney Creek through to the present stage of A.C.W.W.

Cloverleaf had papers on Institutes in Australia and in the North West Territories. For lunch they had Danish pastry and Dutch cookies.

Bay View made a study of the West Indies.

Smithville made a picture book to send to their Friendship Institute in England. The secretary says "It was filled with photos and pictures of our village and district and with other local information. On the back of the pages we drew and colored pictures of our Canadian wild flowers. We are glad to hear that the Hailsham members cherish it."

Salem Nilestown: "Two New Canadian homemakers who had just returned from visits to their respective native countries spoke on comparisons of life here and there."

Mrs. Maurice Johnson, president North Perth District Women's Institutes, presents the 1962 Jean Scott North Perth Women's Institute Scholarship award to Anne Dickson. Ann has completed twelve 4-H Homemaking Clubs and has been active in community and school activities. She plans to enter Pre-Medicine at Western University this fall.
