

program so that it would not interfere with a girl's school work.

Miss Eadie's interests were always close to the farm home and the rural community, with a steadily growing awareness of world relationships as she travelled rather widely in connection with her work. And she missed no opportunity to remind girls of the richness of their heritage in belonging to a good farm home and a rural community, their responsibilities to both and as citizens of a wider area.

Y.W.C.A. committee work has been one of Miss Eadie's side interests. She will probably devote more time to this when she returns at the end of March from a holiday in Florida.

Miss Jean Scott Succeeds Miss Eadie

MISS JEAN SCOTT who succeeds Miss Eadie as Director of Junior Home Economics Extension is a graduate of Macdonald Institute. She has many friends among the women and young people of Rural Ontario, having served as County Home Economist in Eastern Ontario in the nine counties from Toronto to Kingston and in the Western counties of Perth, Middlesex, Dufferin, Huron and Bruce. Following this work she was Field Consultant to the Home Economists of the province. In August, 1956, she was appointed Supervisor of County and District Home Economists with headquarters at Guelph. She has now transferred to the Toronto office.

Photo courtesy Federated Colleges

Miss Jean M. Scott

Miss Scott has had an active part in developing and directing the Junior Extension program with 4-H Homemaking Clubs, Junior Institutes and Junior Farmers so she is well prepared for the responsibilities of her new office.

Testimony to Club Work

THE ONTARIO 4H Homemaking Club program includes nineteen units or projects. In Food Clubs there are The Supper Club, Dressing Up Home Grown Vegetables, The Milky Way, Meat In the Menu, The Cereal Shelf and Featuring Fruit; in Clothing: Being Well Dressed and Well Groomed, Cottons May Be Smart, What Shall I Wear? Sleeping Garments, Working With Wool and Separates for Summer. Home Furnishing is studied in the projects, Clothes Closets Up-to-date and Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom. The Club Girl Stands on Guard is something of a citizenship unit; and hospitality is the theme of The Club Girl Entertains. Along with these there is a three-year project for Garden Clubs.

A girl who has completed this program has acquired considerable education in home economics. Our County Home Economists have located six of them in the province and their answers to a questionnaire give some information of interest.

First: the mothers of all six girls were club leaders which might be partly responsible for the sustained interest until they had completed all the projects. One girl said: "My brothers and I took 4H clubs in both homemaking and agriculture, as a natural part of our education because Mom and Dad were both club leaders."

To the question "In what way do you consider your club training is helping you now?" some of the answers were:

"I can plan inexpensive but nourishing meals and I now make all my own clothes."

"In club work I made a bedspread, dresser scarf and chair pad which I am using in one of my bedrooms. And I find that by making my own clothes and my children's, I can cut down clothing costs. Meals are easier to prepare and more varied because I know several ways of serving the same vegetable or fruit."

"Club work helps since I have started keeping house because I can refer to my note