

giving a coloring book and crayons to be sent to the children's department of the county hospital.

Orkney was instrumental in having a flashing stop-light placed at a dangerous intersection and a "Slow" sign where school children cross a busy section of road. They also carried on a library for the community and sponsored community card parties.

Troy organized swimming classes for school children at the YMCA, Galt.

Carluk sponsored a trip to the Icecapades at Kitchener — with two buses, forty-one adults and forty-three children; provided aluminum toboggans for the school and a hundred cup coffee-maker for the community hall.

Following the rug making project Bethesda purchased a rag cutter for use in the community.

Buttonville held card parties during the winter and gave the funds to the school for retarded children.

Sharon Junior Institute reports: "The 'adopting' of a welfare family proved very rewarding. We collected good used clothing, canned goods, fruit, vegetables and toys and had these taken to a needy family."

Belhaven makes sweaters, booties, bonnets and diapers for the Children's Aid Society, the Society providing the materials. Wexford also does sewing for the Children's Aid including the making of cot quilts.

Queensville sent a recommendation to the Township Recreation Committee asking that a specified period on the ice at the rink be given to the pre-school children of the community. This was accepted by the committee.

Elder's Mills entertained all the branches of their district, West York, at an evening "Spring Tonic Social." The guest speaker or entertainer was the musician, Mr. Wm. White whose topic was Negro Spirituals. The Institute provided the rest of the program.

Carol Armstrong receives the 1963 Dufferin County Ontario Women's Institute Scholarship from Mrs. Graham McCutcheon, chairman of the scholarship committee. At left is Mrs. Allan Laverty, President North Dufferin District Women's Institute. Mrs. Laverty was also leader of Carol's 4-H Homemaking Club sponsored by Honeywood Institute.

Yvonne Robinson, who received the Flora Durnin Grey County Ontario Women's Institute Scholarship for 1963. Yvonne has completed fourteen 4H Homemaking Club units and is now attending Teachers' College.

National and International Interests

Simcoe: "We have correspondents in England, Ireland, Australia and Holland, including Mrs. Van Beekhoff who spent a week in Simcoe in 1953. Letters and magazines provide items for programs. And the A.C.W.W. paper, "The Country Woman", has many articles to use in programs."

Mary Maynard, winner of the Oxford County Women's Institute scholarship for 1963. Mary has completed twelve 4H Homemaking Club projects. She is now taking the degree course in Home Economics at Macdonald Institute.

Teeterville "had an European Supper cooked in the European way by New Canadian Institute members."

Atherton and Lynn Valley each had an address on The World Food Bank. Long Point had a talk and discussion on C.A.R.E.; Port Dover a talk on Food for Peace.

Woodhouse says: "We have a number of New Canadians who are faithful workers in our Institute. The papers on the Food and Agriculture of the World at our International meeting enlightened us on the methods of farming in other countries."

Coldsprings had a reading on A.C.W.W. and songs of different countries including a solo in the Indian language. The roll call was answered by placing flags of A.C.W.W. countries on a map of the world. There was also a quiz on the countries named.