

in a workshop for mentally retarded trainees. Their report indicates that they have provided a variety of articles the students and trainees require for their training.

Among Singhampton's community projects for the year were — assisting the men and serving lunch at the bees to clean up the cemetery, taking charge of the books delivered by the county library van, planting trees and painting the fence in the memorial park.

Berwick redecorated the basement and completely modernized the kitchen of the community hall and paid a man to keep the grass cut around the memorial cairn.

Ingleside sponsored the monthly meeting of the local Senior Citizens' Club, helping to provide refreshments and birthday cakes.

Moose Creek purchased a piano for the community hall.

When Waters Institute was given representation on the local centennial project for a Community Centre the women asked especially for a library.

Elk Lake provided cod liver oil capsules for the children of their two local schools. North Sunshine also supplied schools with cod liver oil capsules.

McGregor operates a library which is open to the community.

Powles Corner provides a depot for the county co-operative library, one of the members keeping the books in her home. More books were used this year than ever before and the school children are especially interested.

Wellesley bought an electric stove, suitable for catering for large gatherings for the agricultural hall.

Bridgeport's interest in children and young people is evident in the fact that they sponsored 2 Brownie packs, 2 Girl Guide companies, 1 Cub pack, 1 Scout troop, 1 Rover Scout crew and 2 4-H Homemaking Clubs. Scouts and 4-H girls always help at the Institute's famous Sauerkraut Supper.

Jack's Lake had a dinner for Institute and 4-H Club members and their families.

Moose Creek arranged a meeting open to the public at which they had an address by a psychiatrist on "Attitude Toward Mental Illness." Hanbury had an open meeting with a film on tuberculosis followed by a discussion.

Jubilee's secretary, reporting the Institute's visits to a nursing home with treats for the patients, writes: "There has been some bad publicity about nursing homes; so people should visit them more and know what's going on and not neglect old people. They need the personal interest of people."

Mill Creek South Waterloo reports, "We gave the required leadership to the Bryden Fund when requested to do so by the township council." (This was a fund for a widow and her children.) "Institute members and their families were the first contributors and the president helped the administrator of the fund." The report adds that the Institute through this experience learned much about what the Ontario Government does to help widows and children.

New Dundee takes a special interest in girls' homemaking clubs. Last year they had four clubs with eight leaders and fifty girls in two projects.

Chippawa had a representative of Brock University speak about the new university and what it will mean to the area.

West End sent written invitations to non-members to attend their Safety Meeting to hear a speaker from the poison centre in a nearby hospital. This branch had a Variety night with games, a skit by the Junior Farmers and an illustrated talk on Crossroads Africa.

Clyde and Scott's has a choral group that has provided an evening's entertainment on several occasions.

Sheffield provided clothes for a needy child going to a School for the Blind.

The Hollows with a membership of fourteen provided a Christmas party for the children of the community and thirty-two children

At Glengarry's Summary Day on "Desserts," Mr. Gilbert Rupp, Pastry Chef at Reddy Memorial Hospital, Montreal, demonstrated Cake Decoration, through courtesy of the Geo. Lanthier et Fils Bake Shop. Following the Summary Day program the 80 guests enjoyed a Dessert Buffet and a tour of the Bake Shop. Left to right: Mr. Marcel Lanthier, Mr. Rupp, Mrs. D. M. Macleod of Alexandria United Church Women, Mrs. Raoul Leclerc, St. Lawrence Women's Institute, Mrs. R. A. Smith, Picnic Grove W.L. Summary Day Chairman.