cleanliness in some of the students but when I come here and see a group of girls such as yourselves I feel that the future of Canada will be in good hands."

"Prepare yourselves to work," warned the Professor. "The paintings of the great masters, the great works of literature, all great achievements did not spring full bloom into being. They are the results of years of patient labour."

Dr. Janet Wardlaw, Dean of Macdonald Institute brought greetings to the Conference, outlined the new program of the College of Family and Consumer Studies, and invited the delegates to tour Macdonald Institute.

Interest Groups

Miss Rosemary Clark, Regional Supervisor of County Home Economists explained that the Conference Program included dividing all of the girls into groups according to their special interests.

Those girls interested in music participated in a Music Group under the direction of Mrs. R. G. Marshall, A.T.C.M. of Fergus. The Effective Speaking Group were given instruction by Mr. Nelson Hawn, of Kemptville. Crafts were taught by Miss Eleanor Flint and Mrs. Layne Paton of the Home Economics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

The Girls Said

IMPRESSIONS: It feels out of this world to be so free. One minute you are a stranger in a whole new atmosphere of unfamiliar faces and yet the next minute you are being flooded with a steady stream of names and faces all very new and now for four days to be very familiar.

It seems a miracle to know you have so many wonderful friends in a matter of minutes. Excitement and experience filled every day along with memories that will linger throughout your life.

Taking on responsibilities and learning to be a leader came easily and freely.

One of the things I enjoyed most was the music interest group which I attended. From the first minute I stepped into the hall to sing right up until the ringing applause after our singing at Thursday's banquet I was lifted in spirit and floating in a heaven of music. Harmony flowed from our mouths and blended together so beautifully that our worries left you for this time. We're off in a cloud of dreams feeling a whole part of something beautiful with spirits lifted and cares gone. It is a feeling only you can experience and it made me feel free to let my thoughts wander to the dreamland of music. There are so many things I could say about everything I did and enjoyed in fact I've written a log book of everything we have done together.

In conclusion I will say I can leave (unwillingly) with a sense of love, friendship, accomplishment and satisfaction that I have represented my District in the best way possible.
