

Miss Anne Stubbs of Alton, Ontario, winner of the Peel County Ontario Women's Institute Scholarship. Miss Stubbs is now attending Trinity College at the University of Toronto.

CITIZENSHIP AND EDUCATION

Bluevale — A lively discussion on television programs and what to do to change them brought out many ideas at a branch meeting.

Adanac — "The History of Banking", was the title of a talk at a branch meeting.

McIlquham's — At a branch meeting the members enjoyed a discussion on prejudice.

Salford — The branch entertained a branch from another District and took them on a tour of the local community.

Golden Gate — Sponsored a bicycle rodeo at the local school for Grades 3-8. The Ontario Provincial Police gave the tests and the Branch provided judges and prizes.

Aughrim — A guest speaker spoke on the library facilities available to the community, mentioning records, tapes and films.

Louise — Roll Call — "Why I joined the Institute". Many of the replies revealed that the desire for friends was a popular reason.

Elder's Mills — "Everyone values books as sources of information on every known subject. But the forward-looking person does not stop there. He sees the possibilities in books of deepening his culture and of learning to use his life in such a way as to increase his possibility of attaining happiness and fulfillment." This is an excerpt from a talk on books presented at a branch meeting.

Clanbrassil — A meeting program featured a discussion on child discipline.

Hagersville — Roll Call — "What can I do to discourage racial discrimination?"

Nelles Corners — As a project the members studied the townships in their county, using a map to illustrate the location of industries, churches, schools, etc. They also learned the names of county and township officials. The members reported that they enjoyed this program.

Diltz and Robinson Road — A safety program using the theme, "Read The Label", and "What to do When Lightning Strikes" was presented at a branch meeting.

Canboro — A speaker using slides described types of Architecture. Members reported that they are now more aware of architectural details in houses.

New Dundee — "A good example is the best teacher," a police constable said while addressing a Branch meeting. The speaker said that parents who try to beat the law and then brag about it are setting bad examples for their children.

Mountain Union — Theme: "Teenagers need models not critics."

North Mornington — A local area school principal was the guest speaker at a Branch meeting. Discussions using the topics: geography, rotary system, homework, dress, etc. created much interest.

Kleinburg Nashville — "Does the average Canadian citizen value the right to vote or they should?" asked a speaker at a Branch meeting.

Dublin — A constable of the Ontario Provincial Police spoke on the use of Drugs by the local elementary and secondary school pupils. He explained symptoms for which parents could be watching.

Miss Elizabeth Jackson, recipient of a certificate of merit for achievements in 4-H Club Homemaking projects in Wellington South District. Miss Jackson is now in training to be a nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph.

