

From left, Debbie, Eadie, Galetta, Nifty Needlers watches as Club Leader Mrs. Murray Dixon explains a needlecraft project.

★ ★ ★

Self is the only prison that can ever bind the soul.
—Henry Van Dyke

★ ★ ★

Left, Mrs. Alex Docherty and Mrs. Ernest Renn, Local Leaders for "The Baking With Yeast Course", from the Oakcrest Women's Institute.

Historical Research

Moscow — The branch curator presented a program featuring the Tweedsmuir History. She explained how these valuable books got started and the type of material needed for recording.

Kleinburg Nashville — A branch program featured a flashback on Women's Institute History. The speaker concluded by saying that Women's Institute members can help to justify the motto, "For Home and Country" by being cordial to strangers, generous to friends and helpful to every human life we touch.

Jarvis — "The Irish People In Canada Early Settlers" was the subject of an address at a branch meeting.

Colborne — A button collector displayed and explained her collection at a branch meeting. She said that Queen Victoria preferred buttons made of jet since they were lighter than glass.

Mrs. Sandra Martin, a clothing specialist with the Home Economics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food explains a clothing chart.

McArthur's Mills — "What your parents and grandparents have done to make this a better world for this generation" was the subject of an address presented at a branch meeting. One answer was "These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. You need no longer fear severe epidemics of typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, mumps or measles as they did in their youth."