DAWN

The immortal spirit hath no bars
To circumscribe its dwelling place;
My soul hath pastured with the stars
Upon the meadow-lands of space.

My mind and ear at times have caught,
From realms beyond our mortal reach,
The utterance of Eternal Thought
Of which all nature is the speech.

And high above the seasoned lands,
On peaks just tipped with morning light
My dauntless spirit mutely stands
With eagle wings outspread for flight.

—Frederick George Scott.

The Bookshop has a thousand books
All colors, hues and tinges,
And every cover is a door
That turns on magic hinges.
