Anniversaries

Peel County — The anniversary program featured the "Peel County Panorama" written by Mrs. John Trimble, P.R.O. for North Peel. Concluding the presentation the question was asked, "Where do we go from here?" Someone suggested Women's Institute Branches on the Moon.

Caledon — Roll Call at an Anniversary celebration was answered by each member giving the name of the national song of another country.

Simcoe East — To celebrate the 75th Anniversary this District had published a four-page section in a local newspaper reviewing Women's Institute history and activities. Excellent pictures of past and present members added interest to this fine project.

Edgeley — Roll Call for the 75th Anniversary Celebration was "An Early Recollection of a Women's Institute Personality." One woman recalled that her mother (with twelve children) came home to announce that she had accepted the position of secretary because she felt that everyone should accept some responsibility in the community.

Annan — The program convener was assisted by Branch Life Members at the 75th Anniversary celebrations. They reviewed activities of the branch during the past years.

Malden — The 75th Anniversary Celebration program features a review of the spread of the Women's Institutes from the organization of the first branch at Stoney Creek to the present day when there are societies similar to Women's Institutes in every part of the world.
