

The girls participated in one of the four groups. The craft groups both had a completed article to take home, and the conference benefited by having some of the introductions and thank you speeches from the effective speaking group.

Enjoyment of Music group under the direction of Mr. R. A. Kidd, Professor of Music, University of Guelph. Professor Kidd introduced a whole new dimension of music appreciation for the delegates' enjoyment. Two-thirds of the group could read music and with the use of an overhead projector, various themes were shown and time was spent identifying music motifs. The group went over the score, which was synchronized through records and music on the overhead.

Participants — Suzanne Kuchta, Kent; Prof. R. A. Kidd; Karen Delaney, Stormont; Dr. Stanley Saunders, Director of Music; Gwen McLean, Simcoe; Ria Van Oostveen, Wellington.

Effective Speaking, in charge of Mrs. L. M. Forsyth, Centralia College. This group had fun while learning. The girls had to be alert with the tongue twisters, especially having to keep in mind to enunciate properly.

Mrs. L. M. Forsyth says — Use your lips on this one!

Poppy bought some popcorn,
Poppy promptly dropped it.
Peter Piper picked it up,
And in his pocket popped it.

Tapestry — Mrs. Layne Paton and Irene Koyama, craft specialists Home Economics Branch, taught this old skill to the girls. Frames were provided, the girls set them up and worked patterns on the forms.

Needlepoint — Miss Janet Page, Home Economist from North Bay was in charge. This group were keenly interested and showed much talent, working with various types of canvas and wool.

Mrs. Margaret Little, Sudbury, teaches tapestry.

Miss Denise Story, Grey County teaches needlepoint.

Career Explorations

Moderator Mrs. Margaret Woof. This panel was well received by the delegates who were anxious to ask questions about job opportunities, education requirements and where to seek guidance regarding acceptance in these schools of learning.

Ruth Harris, an Environmental Horticulturist working at the newly opened arboretum at the University of Guelph; Marion Buchanan a physiotherapist, at the Kitchener Waterloo Hospital; Mrs. Jill Varnell, former Home Economist and social worker, and Mrs. Lori Jocus, co-ordinator of Early Childhood Education, Mohawk College.

Mrs. Jill Varnell, Mrs. Lori Jocius, Mrs. Margaret Woof, Miss Marion Buchanan, Miss Ruth Harris.

Today's Look At Rural Living

Dr. C. T. M. Hawden, College of Social Science, University of Guelph. The youth of today has a hard time to gain the respect of their elders. It is easier for 4-H members to gain acceptance because in a sense they are carrying on some of the traditions such as