About Our Featured Speaker

Maureen Jennings has three series in the crime fiction genre. The first is set in 1895 Victorian Toronto, featuring detective William Murdoch. The Murdoch Mysteries television series, broadcast by CBC is into its ninth season. Maureen has written for the show for the past four years and is the creative consultant.

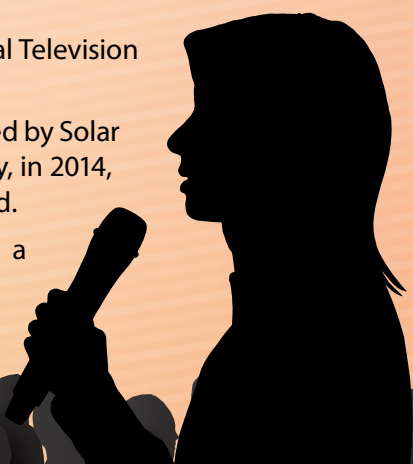

The second series featuring criminal profiler, Christine Morris, has been purchased by Shaftsbury Films for possible future development.

Her latest series featuring detective, Inspector Tom Tyler, is set in rural England, during WW2. They are Season of Darkness, Beware This Boy and No Known Grave. All are published by Random House Canada under the McClelland & Stewart imprint. A fourth book is now completed and will be released next year.

These books were the inspiration for Bomb Girls, a television series broadcast by Global Television in 2012/2013. They are also produced as audible books.

Before launching into television, Maureen wrote two mystery plays which were produced by Solar Stage. One of them, No Traveller Returns has been remounted two more times. Recently, in 2014, another mystery play, Death In A Black Suit was performed by Scarborough Players Guild.

Maureen Jennings was born in Birmingham, England and emigrated to Canada as a teenager. She has a BA in psychology and philosophy and an MA in English Literature.
