

1975 - 1985

Rev. Glenn A. Sim - incumbent January 1974 - September 1978

Further growth in evangelism was encouraged during the Rev. Sim's tenure by the formation of a Community Women's Bible Study group. A Parochial Advisory Committee composed of leaders and representatives of all areas of parish life greatly assists the rector and wardens in parish business during the year.

St. George's Church received considerable improvement both in beauty and heat conservation. Many donations as memorials replaced the warped, clear, leaded windows with stained glass panels of red, green, blue, mauve and gold. A new larger furnace and improved duct work made it much warmer. The rectory was improved by the addition of a breezeway and garage. Sand-blasting of the building as well as the application of stain added to the appearance.

Archdeacon F. G. Ongley

Mr. Murray McColl, Lay Reader - October 1978 - February 1979

Rev. Ronald L. Scott - February 1979 - December 1981

During Rev. Scott's incumbency, changes were made in the services conducted in the parish. After a series of study sessions the "Blue Book" was adopted for use and the altar moved outward to allow westward (facing) celebration. Three other special services were introduced, Easter Vigil held on Holy Saturday, Requiem Holy Eucharist on All Soul's Day,
