LADY TWEEDSMUIR BIDS FAREWELL TO CANADIANS

Ottawa, March 17 - Lady Tweedsmuir, who will leave shortly to return to her home in England, tonight bade farewell to the Canadian people and said: "I shall always be proud to count myself as a part of Canada, wherever I am."

In a message broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Her Excellency said she would leave Canada "with a warmth at my heart and a gratitude for the love you have shown to my husband and myself". She made reference to her two sons, Lieut. Alastair Buchan and Lieut. John Buchan, who succeeded to his father's title, who now are with the Canadian forces.

"I feel that I cannot leave Canada without saying thank you to the people of this Dominion who have shown me so much kindness, and given me so much help" Lady Tweedsmuir said.

"I hope that the Canadian and British Women's Institutes will always be linked together in the warmest friendship and closest association and that we shall continue to work as ardently in the future for the welfare of the countryside as we have done in the past."

Speaking in French, Her Excellency said "To my friends of French-Canada I send my most profound thanks. Their welcome and their consideration for me touched me to the depths of my heart."
