In nineteeen hundred and fifteen a group of clever ladies

~~There were some lovely ladies~~

While dusting off their thoughts
Decided to hold a meeting to purify the air
They set a date, a minute book they bought.

2 They chose an excellent leader,

Mrs Seymuth was her name.

Well versed, and with a wonderful brain
She led them towards honourable domains.

3. And here with character, friendship and kindness
Was how the Belmont Women's Institute was found.

Though ups and downs have come and gone
For "Home and Country," they've held their ground.

4 From house to house each month they'd go
And taught each other the talents they knew.

They didn't profess to be great pros
But through benevolent work their membership grew.

5 In times of fire, sickness, or terrible disaster,

The B. W. I seem to know just what to do.

They hustled and bustled and would exclaim

To aid the community, help the needy, was their aim.
