Belmore since 1863.

Belmore, a little village, has the unique distinction of being situated in two counties and the corner of four townships. It has been likened to the hub of a wheel, with good roads leading out to the the larger towns. It is protected from the western gales by a hill, and a small river flows on up north through the village, and on its banks the frogs and birds sing forth their welcome to spring. The children play and fish in the water and gather butter-cups, and pussy-willows, in the spring.

At one time Belmore had a population of 225 but by 1955 there were only 55 people

It was a great disappointment when the C.P.R. railway
