

Kincardine cheers on Olympic Torch Relay
