

AGNES CLARK started a career of teaching. In the minutes of school section # 1, Kincardine township (Millarton) of September 21, 1888, there is a motion that Agnes Clark be hired as a teacher for $300 for the year 1889. The motion was by Henry Daniel and seconded by George Clark. In the following year at a meeting of October 29, 1889, it was recommended that she not be re-engaged. In 1890 she was a witness at her brother George's wedding. Shortly after that she went to Calgary to get a teaching job and found a school near Cochrane. It so happened that she had room and board at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Ellis who came with their 6 sons and 3 daughters in April 1886 from Pakenham, Lanark County in Ontario. On December 25, 1894, she was married to John Ellis of the Jumping Pond Settlement. Her address and place of marriage is listed as Sprucedale Settlement in the District of Alberta, North West Territories. Witnesses were Belle Monilaws of Mitford and W. W. Stuart of Jumping Pond, and the minister was J. C. Herdman. Circa 1906, the family moved to the Prentiss District near Lacombe, where they took up farming. Charlie and Winnie Ellis sold part of this farm in 1982 to Union Carbide Canada Ltd. who also helped to establish the Ellis Bird Farm Ltd., a non profit company for the continued encouragement and propagation of Mountain Bluebirds and Tree Swallows. What had started in 1950 by Charlie as a single birdhouse turned into 300 bird houses for the Mountain Bluebird, Purple Martin, Black-capped Chickadee, Tree Swallow and Flicker, and now there is a naturalist foundation to continue the bird conservation and wildlife preservation.

ROBERT CLARK married September 26, 1894 in Kincardine to Sarah Louisa Daniels, daughter of William Henry Daniels and Mary Shewfelt. They were on the membership rolls of Millarton Methodist Church in 1895 and 1897. County directories list them as living at lot 20 1SDR in 1896 and by 1903 were at lot 50 conc. 1SDR. Kincardine twp. and his occupation was listed as weaver. Shortly after they moved to Swan Lake Manitoba where he contracted work on a farm. Returning to Kincardine in 1928, he was employed as a school janitor until his death.

ALEXANDER CLARK received his early education at Millarton school and Kincardine High School. He entered the Kincardine Reporter office while Mr. W. M. Dack was proprietor and learned the printing business. On leaving Kincardine, he worked in London, Toronto and Winnipeg. Going to Calgary circa 1903-4, he bought out a printing office "Quick Print" and under the firm of Clark and Tivey, a large and prosperous business had been built up. He was a young man who was highly esteemed in Calgary and was ever ready to extend the hand of friendship to any old friends from Bruce. On Saturday, April 9, 1910, he was attacked and robbed of $50 and thrown over an embankment near the Bow River. He regained consciousness between 5 and 6 on Sunday morning and walked to his boarding house. By Monday, the pain from a wound on the back of his head became unbearable and he was admitted to the General Hospital. By Tuesday evening his condition became worse and he passed away on Saturday morning, April 16 at 6 o'clock.
