

Ted Dickinson has been in the hospital but is now home for a little while. Sorry to say he has to return to hospital for surgery. Pat Johnson of Dorchester was up to see her dad, Frank and Pearl Mole of Wlarton were down to visit Joan and Ted.

-What a fun day the Elsinore ladies had when the Zion Institute invited Elsinore and Hepworth to a pot luck dinner and their meeting. Their fashion parade and the duet "Can she bake a Cherry Pie Billy Boy?" mixed in with lovely solos and piano music in Emily Walker's own style, readings funny and serious topped with a contest that required the title on songs familiar but -- try and name that tune completed an afternoon the eight Elsinore ladies lucky to attend really enjoyed. Thank you Zion.

-Our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Roy Chappell, formerly Pearl Beattie of Allendorf on the death of her husband.

-On Sunday we paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gowanlock on their 60th anniversary. How fortunate they are to remain mentally alert and healthy and to be able to enjoy the hundreds of friends and relatives that came to honor them.

were the hostesses for the Annual A.C.W. pot luck dinner and program at the Elsinore Community Centre on Monday evening when 30 ladies and gentlemen attended. The food, as always, was delicious. The program was provided by solos by Mrs. Pearl Anderson of Sauble Beach, accompanied on the mouthorgan by Mrs. Vi Chambers of Skipness. Mrs. Bernice Gowan of Allendorf played several numbers geared to the age group present, Viola Chambers played the mouthorgan, accompanied on piano by Helen Gowanlock, Mrs. Madge Legg played beautiful piano music and Helen Gowanlock gave two readings. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Thornburn of Port Elgin showed slides illustrating the poem "David" and narrated by Mr. Thornburn. Mrs. April Howlett thanked the Elsinore ladies and those contributing to the program.

The Gateway Haven Tea and Craft Sale was held on Tuesday, May 29 and the members of the auxiliary served the white cupcakes with ice cream and strawberries; looked after the bake table and sold tickets on the afghan that was won by Heather Hase and a wicker waste basket, won by Eleanor Davis. It was a very busy time for about one and a half hours.

Cameron and Velma Phillips, Robert and Ilene Kirkland and Norm and Eleanor Kearns at the McClure home and then to dinner to Louis' Steak House. Seated in a chair decorated with balloons, Elgin was presented with a 'money bottle'. His granddaughters, Cindy and Kim, had made him a birthday cake, a replica of the Messam home, yard, barn, complete with a fence, farm animals and a tractor. A labour of love! He received a telephone call from their other granddaughter, Kim at Tobermory who couldn't be with them due to work. We join the family on wishing Elgin a "Happy Birthday" and while we know he won't retire, please slow down and take time to pick daisies as well as stones.

Visitor program ready

The 1984 Summer Visitors Program at the Bruce Nuclear Power Development begins Monday, June 11.

This summer program is in operation from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week until Labour Day. Tours run at one hour intervals and include a film and exhibits explaining nuclear energy as well as a bus tour of the BNPD site.

This year, six young ladies will be working as summer guides at the Visitors Centre. They are Carolyn Stepnow, from Inverhuron, who is a student at the University of Waterloo, Tammi Harron, of Elsinore, who is studying at the University of Guelph, Bev Coffman, of Paisley, who is a student at the University of Toronto, Mandy Wilkins, of Kincardine, who is studying at the University of Western Ontario, Susanne Stapleton, of Kincardine, who attends the University of Western Ontario and Cheryl Pegelo, of Chesley, who is at York University.

Local residents, as well as summer visitors, are invited to drop in for a close-up look at the world of nuclear power.

home for just about a year. There were so very good to her, but the days were long and drear.

And now she's up in Heaven, up there with my grandpa and dad. She'll play them a tune on that violin, and make them all so glad.

Happy Father's Day to all the

Fathers for next Sunday
There's darning and mending, of course sir,
There's baking and washing you see
There's cleaning and always there's cooking
Something tasty for dinner and tea.

If you had to pay for it all, sir,
(But where is the husband who can?)
Gosh, what an expense - so be glad sir,
She does it for love of her man!

-Our sympathy to Mrs. Pete Carson on the death of Pete. His sense of humor will long be remembered by his friends and the nurses at the hospital.
-Our sympathy to Vern and Pauline Saunders on the death

Mrs. Marilyn McComb, Valerie and Bruce called on us Sunday evening and brought a copy of the song Marilyn composed for Grandma Black. As it is just one year on Wednesday since Grandma died - here's the tribute:

Are there violins in Heaven?

My grandma was a lady, and oh, how she could play
A tune on her violin, be it morning, night or day.

but now she's gone to Heaven, just a few short days ago,
And I know the first thing she'll ask them for is a fiddle and a bow.

Are there violins in Heaven?
Please give my grandma one.
She'll clap her hands, I can hear her say,
"Oh, music is such fun".

My grandma was in a nursing
