

(by Mrs. M. Gowanlock)

-A lot of damage to barns, sheds and trees was the result of what has been described as the worst wind storm since the Good Friday storm of 1913. Amazing how the flowers survived and are really blooming earlier than last year. The brown thrasher is chortling his merry songs high in the trees and I got a glimpse of the catbird in the shrubs. Also saw two snakes meandering through the flower beds.

-Mrs. Myrel Messam was Hostess at the Community Centre for a shower for her niece, Paula Kirkland. As this was the evening after the wind storm, some of the ladies could not attend to take part in the program. Mrs. Jack Kirkland, grandmother of the bride gave a reading and some jokes. Mrs. Marlene Crossley of Park Head sang a medley and Mrs. Marilyn Phillips played the accordion and sang. The gifts were opened by Mrs. Velma Philp, Miss Rhonda Philp and the messages read by Mrs. Messam. Mrs. Ilene Kirkland fashioned a hat of the bows. Paula thanked the guests for the gifts and lunch and a social hour enjoyed.

-Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Rick Forrest who were married on Saturday. The wedding reception was well attended at the Sauble Community Centre.

SCENT OF SPRING — Jamie Fenton, 4½ of Park Head, takes a sniff of a crocus that was finally brought out by the warm weather in Harrison Park Thursday.

The handicapped can now enjoy the pleasure of great books courtesy of the Port Elgin Library, the Port Elgin Lions Club, and the Port Elgin Knights of Columbus. The Lions and Knights donated money for the purchase of a 4-track cassette player which can be used in conjunction with a collection of 'Talking Books' available through the Library. Deputy Grand Knight Roger Carrier, Bruce County Librarian Joyce Johnston, Port Elgin Librarian Vivien Watton and Lion Grant Wolfe showcase the new recorder.

Cassette will bring Books to life

The Port Elgin Lion's Club and the Port Elgin Knights of Columbus donated money to the library for the recent purchase of a 4-track Cassette Player to be used by the handicapped. This is now available on loan to handicapped persons in this area from the Port Elgin Branch Library.

A collection of Talking Books is also available to persons not able to use conventional reading material. These may be borrowed by picking up a Registration Card at the Library, having it properly filled out and signed by a professional authority, and returning it back to the library. When this is completed then you may choose your Talking Books. The collection consists of fiction: western, romances, best sellers, mysteries; non-fiction: science, history, geography, biographies, children's fiction and non-fiction.

If you or someone you know can make use of this service why not check it out at the library!
