- A reunion of the Shantz family took place at the Elsinore Community Centre on Sunday when seventy-five members from Burlington, Thornhill, New Dundee, Wasaga Beach, Moorefield, etc. attended. Mr. and Mrs. Dow Phillips were the Host family from this area. The oldest gentleman was from Preston with 84 years to his credit. Families were introduced to get the records straight on the Family Tree. Marilyn, Donna and Barb Phillips provided music. The visiting members of the Shantz family expressed their appreciation of the Elsinore Community Centre as a suitable spot for their re-union.

The Dow Phillips had their married son and daughter with their families home and Marilyn's parents are spending this week with the Phillips family. They are Mr. and Mrs. Good from New Hamburg.

Maas - Cramp

Port Elgin United Church was the scene of the marriage of Suzanne Marie Maas and Gordon Morris Cramp, on Oct. 2, at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Karl and Alberta Mass, of R.R. 3, Port Elgin and the groom is the son of Gord and Meryl Cramp, of Fort Nelson, B.C.

Rev. Douglas A. Brydon conducted the service. The church was decorated with purple potted mums and purple and mauve lilies marked the pews.

Joanne Mielke was organist and Anne Maas the soloist. The bride wore a French lace gown with sheer net yoke, accented with lace and pearls. Long sleeves had a frill at the wrist and the A-line skirt was caught up to reveal an underskirt of organza with lace trim. The skirt flowed out to a chapel train and a mohair picture hat, with ruffled trim and flora spray completed the ensemble.

Maid of honor, Krista McArthur wore a long gown of grape jeans with a lace inset, high neckline trimmed with lace, long fitted sleeves and tiered skirt.

Bridesmaids were Linda Hill, Nancy Peirunek, Patty Ulmer and Wendy Harwood. Their gowns matched the maid of honor's. All the attendants carried bouquets of yellow and mauve orchids with baby's breath, ivy, violets and apple blossoms.

The bride carried a white Bible (given by her grandmother), decorated with white roses, orchids, ivy and baby's breath.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white rose, ivy and baby's breath boutonniere. The best man was Bob Harron, of Allenford.

Ushers were Lorin Myers, of Port Elgin, Wayne Hill, of Allenford, Tim Miller, of Sauble Beach, Brad Angel, of Allenford. All the men wore grey tuxedos with mauve orchid boutonnieres.

A reception was held at the Allenford Curling Club. Following which the couple departed on a wedding trip to the Poconos Mountains, Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cramp, will reside at R.R. 1, Allenford.

Speaking finals

On Thursday evening, March 11, eight finalists from grades 5 to 8 participated in the Arran-Tara schools public speaking finals. The Tara branch of the Royal Canadian Legion sponsored the evening and at the conclusion of the evening winners were announced who will represent the school in two competitions.

Lisa Harron of grade 6 placed first with a speech about cats; Grant Nicholson of grade 5, who spoke about his little brother, placed second; Diane Meuser of grade 6, who in her speech advised everyone to have a hobby, placed third in the contest. These three speakers will represent the Arran-Tara school in the Bruce County area schools contest to be held in Chesley early in April. Other schools of this area are Chesley Public School, Elderslie Central School and Paisley Central School.

Lisa Harron was also selected to represent grades 5 and 6 at the Legion Zone finals held at Meaford on Sunday, March 14th. Also, going to Meaford was Lisa Busch who spoke about Laura Ingalls Wilder. Lisa was a winner at the grades 7-8 level in the school finals. Lisa Esplen of grade 8 was also named as second place winner in the grades 7-8 contest. Her topic was the rebirth of the Port Elgin Fall Fair.

Other contestants and their topics were Kirsten McMillan of grade 6, The Cowboy; Beverly Barrett of grade 7, The Rubiks Cube; and Kim Richards of grade 7, Steven Truscott.

Judges for the speaking contest were Mrs. Harold Simpson, Mrs. Lloyd Williamson and Mrs. Dave MacDonald. Principal Wm. Stewart acted as chairman. Mr. G. Weppler was timekeeper.

The school band under the direction of instrumental music teacher, Mrs. Louise Sweiger, provided music for the audience following the speeches, while the judges were making their decisions.
