

Wanita Halliday's farm farther east on the north side of the same road, in concession 7, was the winner of the Most Attractive Farmstead, not only in Elderslie, but in the whole of Bruce County. Their beautiful old two storey fieldstone house is set off by a large lawn with decorative shrubs and flower gardens. As well as a cash award, the winner in each class was given a plaque as a lasting memento. The Hallidays were also the recipients of a silver tea service. Driving to see these properties makes a pleasant sight-seeing tour. Name markers near the road makes it easy to identify each place.

Although the park three miles north of Paisley, recently developed by the Saugeen Conservation Authority and known as "Saugeen Bluffs", is just beyond the west boundary of Elderslie township, its natural beauty has attracted many residents from Elderslie. Even people living nearby had no idea of there being such a display of trilliums as one finds on the hillside there. Entrancing is the ^{at} spectacle!

Trilliums

The Spring was late, the days were chill
And snow had whitened vale and hill.

But now that May's warm sun shines bright,
Wildflowers are lured up to the light.

Lo! Trilliums in thousands spread
Like passing clouds, white overhead.

They nod and dancing chant a theme
In sheltered woods by Saugeen's stream.

No need have they for shouts of praise.
Unheeding man, they sing their lays.
