

June 16th 1916.

South Renfrew Womens Institute, District Annual, met at Glasgow Station, for their third Annual meeting.

Of the ten branches now organized, eight were represented, a good showing, considering the unpropitious weather, and the condition of the roads.

The President, Mrs John Blane, occupied the chair. She mentioned that at the first Annual Meeting, only three Institutes had been represented.

Report from Glasgow showed there were 23 members, 12 meetings were held, with an aggregate attendance of 237. Eleven papers were read,

Receipts. $$55.00$ expenditures $$9.00$

The delegates gave reports of the doings of the year. Glasgow reported progress and a spirit of harmony, a very successful domestic science class had been held, food and clothing sent to the Shelter, and an autograph quilt made and sold.

Mrs A. H. Johnston, President, Mrs James Hamilton, Secretary,

A speaker sent by the Department of Agriculture, Mrs Woelard, gave a very interesting talk on "Health Culture". She was given a hearty vote of thanks on motion of Mrs M^s Laren and Mrs A. Murphy.

Mrs John Affleck was elected, 1st Vice President for the District.

The next Annual meeting was to be held in Renfrew,

A discussion took place on the inauguration of a "Clean Up" day, also a suggestion was made that mail box posts be painted.

One Institute had decided to clean up the school premises, but were told by the men, that it was too heavy work for women, Nothing was done.

Very bountiful lunches were provided by the ladies of Glasgow Station, and a vote of thanks was tendered them for their hospitality, to which Mrs A. H. Johnston, President, replied.
